Brakes Fail, But Tot's OK

The Roger C. Anderson family narrowly escaped injury Wednesday when a car crashed through the kitchen wall in their Trenridge apartment. Trenridge is near Cotner and Vine.

Mrs. Anderson told Police Lt. Reynold J. McMeen that they had taken their young son out of his high chair just moments before the car hit the apartment. The baby's high chair was surrounded with bricks and glass fragments.

Police identified the driver of the car as Charles Q. Harrold, 21, of 2650 Colonial Drive. Officer Roger K. LaPage said Harrold told him he was driving through the Trenridge parking lot when his brakes failed.

The car went over a curb at the end of the parking lot, crossed about 15 feet of grass, dropped over a three-foot drop in a window well and hit the wall of the Anderson apartment, LaPage said.

Harrold suffered a broken nose and minor facial cuts. He was treated and released from Bryan Memorial Hospital.

Police estimated damage to the apartment at $1,800; the car was a total loss.

—MORRISON TELLS SENATORS—
Midwest Share In Space Unfair

Washington (AP)—Gov. Frank B. Morrison of Nebraska told the Senate Space Committee Wednesday that the Midwest is not getting a fair share of the government's space research activities.

Morrison said Chairman Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M., assured him he is willing "to go to bat to see that we have a fair hearing."

Morrison said he voiced the views of the Midwest Governors' Conference. "We want to make our collective position felt," he said.

He urged a re-evaluation of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's reasons for selecting the Boston area as the site of a big electronic research facility. Morrison said he also is seeking favorable consideration of the Midwest in selection of future NASA project locations.

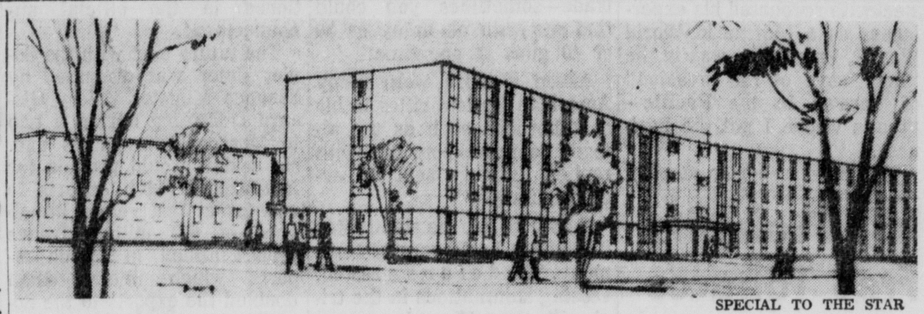

Morrison also talked with Rex M. Whitton, federal highway administrator, about permitting larger signs on Interstate highways to inform travelers of Nebraska points of interest. Such signs now are limited to 150 square feet and Morrison's advisory committee has recommended signs up to 500 square feet.

He said Whitton assured him he favors increasing the size, and would try to work out something before the next session of the Legislature.

The governor called on Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney, D-Okla., and an aide of the senator, Don McBride, to discuss the beef import situation.

McBride, he said, assured him that President Johnson is taking a personal interest in the matter.

In addition, he talked with Cliff Carter, a presidential aide, about "a number of things, including a beef research project."

SPECIAL TO THE STAR

ANOTHER ADDITION . . . a dormitory at Kearney College.

No Construction Letup Seen At Kearney State

By GENE BUDIG
Outstate Nebraska Bureau

Kearney — Construction has been continuous on the Kearney State College campus since 1955, and no let up is anticipated.

Presently on the drawing board are plans for a 396-unit dormitory for men. Bids for construction of the $1.5 million building will be opened April 15.

Wednesday the State Normal Board was given an extra 10 years to pay off bonds which will finance construction of the dorm.

40 Years OK

The Legislative Council Executive Committee authorized a 40-year payment period, although Sen. Harold Stryker of Rising City, chairman, said the Normal Board actually plans to pay them off in 34 years.

In the past, similar bond issues had to be paid off in 30 years.

Stryker said the extra time was authorized with "some reluctance" and indicated this was special permission that would not set a precedent for future financing.

By Next Fall

According to college officials, the dorm should be completed by the fall of 1965.

The next classroom facility will be a badly needed science hall. The last Legislature approved $500,000 for construction of the first segment of the structure.

No one seems to know the extent of the proposed construction.

However, Normal Board members agreed to build "a shell" for a $1.5 million science building if Gov. Frank Morrison will approve it.

College officials are studying the federal college science and library building bill passed last December.

Built By Taxes

In the past nine years, tax dollars have built the Otto Olsen Vocational Arts Building, $770,000; Herbert Cushing Coliseum, $1,325,000, and Calvin T. Ryan Library, $700,000.

The students have erected the following buildings through the sale of revenue bonds:

Memorial Union, $500,000; H. G. Stout Hall, $330,000; Jennie Conrad Hall, $330,000; Everett Randall Hall, $700,000; Carrie Ludden Hall, $500,000; College Heights Apartments, $1,250,000, and Nebraskan Food Building, $900,000.

Growth can be seen in other areas, too.

Since Feb. 1, 1963, the faculty has been enlarged by 33 members. The teaching staff totals 140 with several positions still open.

Enrollment Spurts

Enrollment is increasing at the rate of 10% a year. Since 1954, the student body has grown from 628 to 2,512.

Some 3,000 students are expected to enroll next fall.

Police Watch Saigon Fight

Saigon, Viet Nam (AP)—Two bands of students, demonstrating for unrelated causes, battled each other and brawled through the streets of central Saigon without police hindrance for an hour late Wednesday.

Watching the melee, some westerners expressed belief ambitious men were using for their own ends the student movements harnessed throughout much of 1963 in united opposition to President Ngo Dinh Diem.

One faction demonstrated for Tran Van Ly, a Roman Catholic leader and former governor of Central Viet Nam who is among candidates for premier in a government of national union now being formed by the military junta.

Anti-French Line

The other followed an anti-French line proclaimed by South Viet Nam's current strongman, Maj. Gen Nguyen Khanh. Its members carried banners calling for the downfall of President Charles de Gaulle and his proposal of neutralism for Southeast Asia.

The clashed first in front of the city hall. One group apparently considered the other was trying to steal the limelight.

Fists flew and banners were ripped down.

Riot police and gendarmes, who once would have quickly cleared the streets, looked on tolerantly.

The brawlers drifted from the city hall to the area of the Saigon central market. There they dispersed reluctantly under blasts from the horns of motorists headed home from work.

Familiar Sight

Student demonstrations, forbidden in the closing months of Diem's regime, have been a familiar sight here for weeks.

A thousand marched Tuesday to call on the junta for tough measures against neutralism, corruption and the Communist Viet Cong. This group appeared to be mainly letting off steam.

Discussing the new government, Khanh conferred 90 minutes with Dr. Nguyen Ton Hoan, 47, leader of the Nationalist Dai Viet party who returned only Tuesday from voluntary exile in France. A short, stock man out of the country for 10 years, Hoan told newsmen later he is willing to form a government if asked.

Aside from Hoan and Tran Van Ly, politicians generally considered in the running to succeed the ousted Premier Nguyen Ngoc Tho include Le Van Hoach, a Cao Daist who was premier under the French in 1945, and Tran Dinh Nam, who was interior minister during the Japanese occupation in World War II.

U.S. Sues To Prevent Mayor From Blocking Negro Pupils

Notasulga, Ala. (UPI) — The Justice Department Wednesday night asked a federal court to restrain Mayor James Rea, who turned back six Negroes at a white high school Wednesday, from further thwarting a federal integration edict.

Federal Judge Frank Johnson, who had ordered the Negroes admitted to Macon County High School here, set a hearing on the request for Friday at Opelika.

The injunction suit contended that Rea, flanked by Gov. George Wallace's state troopers blocked the doorway of the school to preserve segregation in the county where Negroes outnumber whites about 7 to 1.

A Justice Department spokesman said the Negroes would not try again to be admitted Thursday and probably not this week.

Rea's action handed President Johnson his first school desegregation crisis and was reminiscent of Wallace's defiant stand against the desegregation of the University of Alabama last year which forced President Kennedy to federalize National Guardsmen to carry out the order.

A white photographer was clubbed into submission by Notasulga police officers in Wednesday's confrontation, and about 50 cane-swinging whites turned on other newscameras.

Rea, 32, summoned reporters to a news conference late Wednesday to declare that his action in rejecting the Negroes had nothing to do with "segregation, integration or anything of that nature."

The mayor said the Negroes were rejected because the school was overcrowded and to accept them would result in a violation of fire and safety ordinances—which were passed Tuesday night.

Dr. Martin Luther King, the south's top integration leader, sent a telegram to President Johnson protesting the rejection of the Negro students and declaring that the "governor of Alabama and local officials in Notasulga . . . have contributed to the breakdown of law and order in our nation by their blatant defiance of the federal courts."

The Notasulga violence erupted when a bus carrying the six highschool age Negroes rolled up to the entrance of the school that serves both grade and high school students in the farm community.

Local police, tipped ahead of time that a white photographer was on the bus, leaped aboard and began flailing away with clubs.

The photographer, later identified as Vernon Merritt III, 23, an employe of the Black Star Agency of Birmingham, was dragged from the bus kicking and screaming.

Town's Water Plant Burned

Tuskegee, Ala. (AP) — The water filter plant at nearby Notasulga burned Wednesday night and Mayor James Rea said it has caused an acute water shortage. He asked that all schools in the town be closed.

A few hours before the fire broke out, the mayor invoked a new fire prevention ordinance and stopped the Negroes from entering the school

No cause of the fire was determined, but Rea said, "It looks suspicious."

Cyprus Airlift Started
. . . 572 AMERICANS FLOWN OUT

Nicosia, Cyprus (AP) — Violence continued in the western-most part of embattled Cyprus Wednesday while an airlift took American women and children to safety in Beirut, Lebanon, 160 miles away.

A gun battle lasted all afternoon in the second day of fighting in the area of the coastal town of Paphos. At least one Greek Cypriot was killed and officials said the two-day total includes at least two Greek Cypriots and one Turkish Cypriot killed.

British troops, patrolling the island's truce, were moved into the Paphos area in an effort to contain any further outbreak of fighting.

Violence in the form of two bombs that ripped the U.S. embassy in Nicosia Tuesday night and the burning of two American cars started the move to airlift out any U.S. dependents who wanted to go.

The embassy bombing capped widespread demonstrations of opposition to a British-American plan for a peace-keeping Atlantic alliance force on Cyprus.

A U.S. spokesman in Beirut said any Americans wanting to leave Cyprus now would have to go by commercial plane. In all, five planeloads totalling 572 persons were sent to Beirut.

A high source in the government of Greek Cypriot Archbishop Makarios reiterated that Makarios has termed the proposal to bring 10,000 troops drawn from NATO countries to Cyprus as unacceptable.

Makarios has said any such force should be connected with the U.N. Security Council

Most Americans leaving Cyprus were the wives of embassy officials or civilians and servicemen working at the huge State Department radio communications complex on the island.

Fazil Kutchuk, Turkish Cypriot vice president in the Makarios government, wired the U.S. ambassador to express grief and shock over the twin bombings at the embassy which slightly injured an American marine.

While the planes droned back and forth, President Archbishop Makarios' negatively worded reply to the British-American proposal was a subject of diplomatic talks in London.

Western diplomats said the bearded Greek Cypriot chief of state seemed to insist on throwing the problem into the U.S. Security Council in such a way that a Communist presenc, that of the Soviet Union, could be injected into the eastern Mediterranean.

'Copter Rescues 11 From Sinking Boat

Eureka, Calif. (AP)—A wind-buffeted Coast Guard helicopter daringly plucked a woman and 10 men off a tossing Seattle yacht 25 miles at sea more than six hours after a floating log stove a hole in the 105-foot boat Wednesday.

Waves were tossed up to 30 feet high while the helicopter hoisted the bedraggled occupants from the pitching deck of the Hattie D., 180 miles northwest of San Francisco.

It took two trips between seashore and the stormy scene to bring out the Seattle skipper, Charles Orcutt, 60, his wife, Evelyn, 55, their two sons, two guests and a five-man crew.

Huddled Below

The 11, so fearful of being washed overboard that they huddled below until the copter lowered to 25 feet above the yacht, apparently came through their ordeal in good condition.

The first six, pulled up off the yacht shortly after 11 a.m. were flown to a ranch near the dairy town of Loleta.

Then the helicopter went back for the other five and headed for Arcta airport. Loleta is 14 miles south of Eureka; Arcata is 10 miles north.

Skipper Orcutt and the other 10 had left Seattle Jan. 24 for San Francisco in the converted Army rescue ship on its first major cruise as a private yacht.

Before dawn, the yacht hit a submerged log and started taking water off Cape Mendocino, a remote heavily timbered sector with forbidding high sea cliffs.

2 Planes Take Off

The yacht radioed at 4:58 a.m. It was in danger of sinking. The Coast Guard sped two planes to the scene and dispatched rescue boats from Fort Bragg and Eureka.

Three hours after the first distress report, those aboard the Hattie D. felt they were winning the battle with the pumps. Then winds up to 40 miles an hour whipped up, blowing away the yacht's forward hatch.

Shortly before 10 a.m. the Hattie D. radioed, "We're breaking up" and it was feared the 11 would have to abandon ship.

The yacht carried lifeboats, but the 12-foot waves made their launching too risky.

To Be Fed

The sheriff's office at Eureka said plans were made to feed some of the rescued at the county jail.

As a precaution, some of those rescued were to be taken to a Eureka hospital for a checkup.

One-Time Buddy Of Hoffa's Claims Teamsters Head Spoke Of Jury Fix

Chattanooga, Tenn. (AP) — A one-time buddy of Teamsters President James Hoffa testified Wednesday that Hoffa talked often of trying to fix his 1962 conspiracy trial jury.

Once, the witness said, Hoffa "said he would pay $15,000 to $20,000 to get to the jury."

Edward Grady Partin—local Teamsters business manager in Baton Rouge, La., who is under indictment for stealing union funds — testified over heated objections of lawyers defending Hoffa and five others on trial with him.

All six are accused of trying to rig the Nashville jury which tried Hoffa on a charge of accepting a $1 million payoff from a Michigan trucking firm. The 1962 trial ended with a hung jury and a mistrial.

"A hung jury is as good as an acquittal," Partin quoted Hoffa as telling him during the trial. "They'll never try the case again."

Stunning Surprise

Partin, who defense lawyers agreed had their unlimited confidence during the 1962 trial, began his testimony as a stunning surprise Tuesday. He testified then he had made almost daily reports during the 1962 trial to Justice Department officials in Nashville.

His appearance, which one defense lawyer said was "a shock to all of us," touched off a bitter legal hassle. The defense claimed his testimony would be a violation of privacy and accused the government of planting him in its midst illegally.

U.S. Dist. Judge Frank Wilson allowed him to testify after studying the matter overnight, commenting:

"I find the government did not place him in the midst of the defense. He was knowingly and voluntarily placed there by one of the defendants."

Partin testified Tuesday that Hoffa had invited him to Nashville Oct. 22, 1962 — the day his trial began — to discuss union business. Partin said he had had personal and union business dealings with Hoffa several times before.

His testimony Wednesday—the first in the 2½-week-old trial to link Hoffa himself with any alleged jury-tampering attempts — also named four of the other five men on trial with the union leader.

At each question, defense lawyers were on their feet with objections, shouting demands for a mistrial or asking that the other defendants be granted separate trials. They were overruled.

The others on trial are Nicholas J. Tweel, Huntington, W.Va., businessman; Allen Dorfman, Chicago insurance broker; Larry Campbell, Detroit Teamsters business agent; Campbell's uncle, Thomas Ewing Parks of Nashville, and Ewing King, former Teamsters president in Nashville.

Partin began Wednesday—before the defense managed to get the jury excused for the day while they battled over his right to be a witness—with testimony regarding Tweel and Dorfman.

He said Tweel once told him Dorfman had asked Tweel, as a favor, to work out a method to get to the jury.

But his testimony regarding Hoffa was the bombshell of the trial so far.

"He called me to his room," said Partin. "He told me he'd like to stick around a few days. He might want me to talk to a few people.

"He said they were going to get to one juror and try to get to a few scattered jurors and take a chance."

On another occasion, he said, "he (Hoffa) told me he thought the banker-witness (unidentified) that day had hurt him, and he said he would pay $15,000 to $20,000 to get to the jury."

Trade With Reds Hiked By France

Paris (AP)—France made another stride toward increased trade with the Communist world Wednesday by signing a new pact with Poland and reporting another in the making for the Soviet Union.

Both pacts particularly would benefit French exports but officials said the goal—to which Poland and the Soviet Union agree—is an increase of two-way trade.

No sooner had French and Polish officials toasted their signatures at a special luncheon than Italy announced that it, too, was boosting trade with the Soviet Union. The four-year pact would increase trade by 50% to the figure of 240 billion lire ($384 million)—half each way by 1969, the last year of the pact.

France already has stirred up Western diplomatic circles by recognizing Communist China and exchanging informal trade missions. Peking is reported interested in buying Caravelle twin-jet medium-range transport planes. A spokesman for the builder, nationalized SUD Aviation, said nothing was being discussed at the present time but it probably was only a matter of time and credits. The Chinese mainland represents "an enormous potential market," he said.

A Chinese group which came to France to study oilfield and petrochemical equipment has extended its visit.

The French-Polish pact calls for the sale of 400,000 to 600,000 tons of French grain from the 1965, 1966 and 1967 harvests and provides for an 18-month credit for the Poles. No sale prices were mentioned in the official announcement.

The future pact with the Soviet Union was discussed by Finance Minister Valery Giscard D'Estaing during a trip to Moscow a few days ago. He said it would provide for increased French exports to counteract last year's imbalance of 697 million francs ($139.4 million) in French imports which more than doubled the exports to the Soviet Union.

WHAT'S THAT AGAIN?

A 1964 North Carolina motor vehicle tag turned up in Franklin, N.C., with this unusual lettering. The tags are made by the North Carolina Central Prison in Raleigh and prison officials haven't quite figured out how the tag got into the hands of distributors. Pictured with the tag is Verlon Swafford of Franklin.

Beckwith Denies Murder

. . . 'NEVER KILLED ANYTHING BUT TIME'

Jackson, Miss. (UPI)—Gun fancier Byron De La Beckwith swore Wednesday that he was not the assassin who killed Negro leader Medgar Evers with a single shot in the dark.

"If I've ever killed anything but time, well, we couldn't eat it at home," said the jaunty fertilizer salesman.

Beckwith took the stand in his own defense. He is accused of shooting Evers to death early on June 12, 1963.

Handed the rifle which the state claims killed Evers, Beckwith pulled the bolt, clicked the trigger, leaned back in the witness stand and swung the butt to his shoulder. He aimed the gun at the ceiling above the jury and announced that he could not identify it as one of his collection of rifles.

He said it resembled a gun which he owned, and which was stolen from him a few hours before Evers died. But he said he could not be sure the gun he held was the same weapon.

Beckwith, dressed in his standard blue suit, answered his attorneys' questions casually, sometimes at length. He often turned to look into the faces of the jury.

He told the court that he had collected guns "as long as I can remember. I trade guns like a rock hound collects rocks."

"I like a man that likes a gun," he said. He also told of how he got cut over his right eye from a rifle recoil while target shooting two days before "all this Evers mess came up."

But he said "I'm the worst hunter in the world." He said his shooting was limited to targets.

Beckwith denied two of the prosecution's main charges—that his car was seen near Evers' home the night Evers was killed, and that a few days before the slaying he asked two cab drivers how to get to Evers' house.

Two defense witnesses—both policemen—claimed they saw Beckwith in Greenwood, Miss., the night Evers was killed in Jackson, and Beckwith testified that his car — as far as he knew — was not in Jackson the night of the killing.

In refuting the testimony of the cab drivers, he said, "There was no reason to have any conversation with anyone in that vein."

Gesturing occasionally and leaning back in his chair, Beckwith recounted his experiences as a Marine in World War II. He said he was in the "first wave of the invasion" of Tarawa in the Paciifc—"that's where I got the business."

The court reporter stopped him to ask what "the business" was. Beckwith explained "that's where I was wounded."

The prosecution, earlier in the trial, made several mentions of a cut over Beckwith's eye and apparently was implying that he received it from a rifle the night Evers was killed.

But Beckwith said he was shooting targets at a police range near Greenwood two days before Evers was killed—"I get out there and shoot every time I get a chance"—when he received the cut.

"I got my eye up a little too close to that scope and the gun recoiled and came back and caught me."

He said he always had at least one gun in his car—because "I couldn't ever tell when I might turn up at a trade—sometimes you could find me with as many as 30 or 40 guns at one time."

Asked if there were many American Enfield rifles in his neighborhood such as the alleged death weapon, Beckwith replied "mighty near on every plantation."

Beckwith left the stand after two and a half hours of testimony. The defense rested. Closing summations in the trial will come Thursday.

Smoking: Folly Or Sin?

New York (AP)—The U.S. Surgeon General's report on smoking elevated what once was considered a minor vice—cigarettes—to the level of serious concern in the nation's houses of worship.

Two Baptist ministers in Kansas City considered possible moral implications presented by continued use of tobacco in the face of clear warnings of imperiled health.

"I would regard it as a sin," said one, the Rev. Dr. Frank F. Norfleet of Wornall Road Baptist Church. "Anything that would hurt the body is a sin . . . it is a sin once you recognize it as a danger to your health."

But the other, the Rev. Robert G. Middleton of First Baptist Church, said, "I am not sure that it would be a sin. I think it is folly."

Their comments were representative of the answers given in a random sampling by the Associated Press of clerical comment across America.

Repeatedly, the response to the poll raised the question: smoking—sin or folly?

"A sin, maybe not; stupidity, yes," said the Rev. Canon Rudolf Devik in Seattle. But the Episcopalian clergyman added:

"I don't think cigarette smoking is going to decrease one little bit. Man never has been reformed by telling him what is harmful for him. We'll spend millions to find a safe cigarette rather than cut it out."

Father Thomas J. Welsh, vice chancellor of the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of Philadelphia, remarked, "many questions are being raised and will be discussed by the moral theologians . . . intemperate statements at this time could have a harmful effect rather than a profitable one."

Rabbi Alvin I. Fine of San Francisco's Temple Emanuel said:

"Smoking is serious enough as a health hazard and medical problem without magnifying it into a moral sin or evil."

VA Prohibits Free Tobacco In Hospitals

Washington (AP) — The Veterans Administration prohibited Wednesday the distribution of free cigarettes and other smoking products in its 168 hospitals and 18 domiciliaries.

The domiciliaries house aged and infirm veterans who do not need full hospital care.

VA said its action was based on study of the report on smoking and health made Jan. 11 by an advisory committee to the surgeon general of the U.S. Public Health Service.

VA said it also plans an educational campaign, to inform patients in the hospitals and VA employes of the health hazards incurred by smoking.

A spokesman said the ban applies to cigarettes, cigars and smoking tobacco but was not regarded as applying to snuff and chewing tobacco, though he did not know of any free distribution of the latter.

Bans on free cigarettes previously had been ordered in health service, Indian service and Defense Department military hospitals.

Johnson Praises Kennedy's Efforts To Help Retarded

New York (UPI) — President Johnson Wednesday night hailed the efforts of the late President John F. Kennedy to aid mentally retarded persons and pledged to carry on "his pioneering work in this field."

Addressing a Kennedy Foundation dinner attended by many members of the late President's family, Johnson called them "the world's second most powerful Common Market" — a group of people who placed the public good ahead of private gain.

Standing before the gathering that included the late President's mother, brothers and sisters, the President said of the family:

"They have been granted more than their share of greatness—but they have also been dealt more than their share of grief.

Mindless Murder

"The senseless, mindless murder of their martyred brother and son brought endless, timeless grief to every American family."

"John Kennedy was to have been here tonight. No cause was closer to his heart."

He said earlier Americans were fortunate to have known such families as the Adamses, the Lees, the Randolphs, the Lafollettes and the Roosevelts and "our generation is proud and blessed to have known the Kennedys."

"Fierce competitors in life, they are a closely knit team. For they are all genuine friends as well as relatives."

The President flew to New York from Washington in late afternoon to attend a dinner given by the Joseph P. Kennedy Jr. Foundation for Mental Retardation. The organization was named for the late President's brother who was killed in World War II.

Mrs. John F. Kennedy was not in the announced list of guests.

Those members of the Kennedy family present included Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy; Mrs. Rose Kennedy; Sen. Ted Kennedy, and Mrs. Eunice Shriver, the late President's sister and wife of the Peace Corps director, R. Sargent Shriver.

Iowan Drowns While Working On Missouri

Sioux City, Iowa (AP) — Richard Thompson, 34, of Council Bluffs, drowned Wednesday while working for the U.S. Geological Survey when a boat capsized in the Missouri River.

A co-worker, Frank Lindstrom, 34, also of Council Bluffs, said he and Thompson were taking a river volume measurement when the mishap occurred.

Thompson, using the boat, had stretched a cable from the Iowa to the Nebraska side of the river to measure its width. Lindstrom said Thompson tied the cable to a piling, launched his boat again and started to return, but apparently changed his mind and turned back to the Nebraska side.

He ran the boat up on ice at the shore so he could dock it, the ice broke and the boat overturned. Linstrom said Thompson managed to grab the cable, held on for about five minutes, then disappeared under the water.

A search for the body began immediately.

Lindstrom said Thompson was a good swimmer but was wearing heavy clothing. An engineering technician, he was married and the father of four.

Linstrom said he yelled and waved across the river, trying unsuccessfully to attract attention of men working on a sewer installation nearby on the Nebraska side. When this failed, he said, "I felt helpless. There was nothing I could do."

Nebraskans Favor Losing Amendment

Washington (AP) — Nebraska Sens. Curtis and Hruska voted for an amendment Sen. Winston L. Prouty, R-Vt., offered to the tax bill to allow working students to deduct a portion of their college expenses on their tax returns. The Senate defeated the amendment on a 47-47 tie vote.

Gas Customers Getting Refunds Averaging $11.50

Residential customers using Western Power and Gas Co. natural gas between Aug. 27, 1957, and Dec. 27, 1959, are being mailed credit refunds averaging about $11.50.

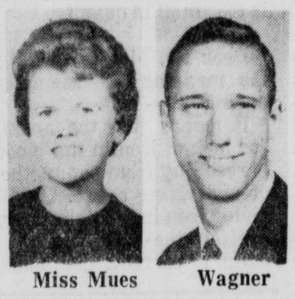

Glenn E. Bonacker, vice president for gas operations, said Tuesday the refunds totaling $1,052,061 are being sent to nearly 85,000 customers in Nebraska and South Dakota.

The refund came about when the Federal Power Commission last year disallowed a rate hike which Northern Natural Gas Co. of Omaha, the wholesale supplier, had put into effect.

Two Nebraskans Announced As IFYE Delegates

Washington, D.C.—Two Nebraskans are among 74 young people from various parts of the U.S. who were announced Thursday as participants in the International Farm Youth Exchange (IFYE) program.

Mona Mues, 22, of Cambridge, will visit India, and

Miss Mues

Wagner

Virgil Wagner, 21, of Hooper will visit Switzerland.

The Nebraska IFYE delegates will spend from four to six months in their respective host countries, living and working in homes, schools, co-operative farms, and institutions. Both will be visiting during the peak of the agricultural season in each country, with Miss Mues scheduled to leave Sept. 9, Wagner on April 17.

The exchange program is conducted by the National 4-H Club Foundation in behalf of the Cooperative Extension Service of the state land-grant colleges and universities and U.S. Department of Agriculture.

HONORED FOR SERVICE

Mrs. Loretta Walker, administrative assistant to the State Board of Pardons and Paroles Wednesday received the Gateway Sertoma Club's "Service to Mankind Award". Mrs. Walker, who is beginning her 21st year with the board has been a state employee for 31 years. Presenting the award is Morris Huelle, chairman of the awards committee.

Nebraska Safety Patrolmen Made 39,721 Arrests In 1963

If sometime last year a Nebraska State Safety Patrolman flagged you down and informed you politely that you were under arrest, the experience was one you shared with a good many thousand Nebraskans.

Col. Dan J. Casey, the patrol chief, reported his troopers last year made 39,721 arrests for hazardous traffic offenses.

The arrests resulted in fines totaling $752,193, all of which went into the common school fund.

Altogether, troopers traveled 7,935,070 miles during the year and made contact of one type or another with 205,423 motorists, or four per cent more than the 197,684 contacted in 1962.

Of the some 39,000 arrests, 26,684 involved speeding, 1,214 involved stop sign offenses, 1,191 involved reckless or careless driving, 963 involved drunk driving, and 877 involved intoxication or drinking on the highway.

Motorists ordered to repair faulty equipment numbered 109,377, and another 56,325 were given warning cards.

Other 1963 accomplishments of the safety patrol:

Assisted 20,119 stranded motorists.
Removed 10,210 hazardous obstructions from the highways.
Presented 1,708 safety patrol programs.
Recovered 138 stolen cars.
Investigated and reported 5,049 accidents.
Spent 359 hours making blood plasma relays.
Inspected 1,450 school buses in March, and 1,514 in October.
Classified and filed 9,543 fingerprint cards, and filed 8,553 criminal histories.
Ran lie detector tests on 242 suspects, clearing 127 of them.

Patrol personnel were increased to 241 during the year.

Collision Injures Young Woman, 19

A two-car collision at 16th and N Wednesday morning sent a young woman to the Lincoln Air Force Base Hospital where she was treated for minor injuries and released.

A police officer said Nancy Dugan, 19, of 3133 R, suffered minor leg injuries when a car in which she was riding, driven by her husband, Clarence, 22, collided with a car driven by Ruth Swenson, 28, of 2400 No. 31st.

Rev. Johnston's Rites Thursday

Holdrege—Funeral services for the Rev. J. E. Johnston, 93, who served churches throughout the midwest, will be at 2 p.m. Thursday at the Nelson Feneral Home in Holdrege.

A native of Red Oak, Iowa, the Rev. Mr. Johnston was graduated from a Swedish Methodist seminary in Chicago in 1893. In the 1920's, he was superintendent of a district of the Swedish Methodist Church which included Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas and part of Missouri.

Surviving are daughters, Mrs. B. O. Lyle of Omaha, Mrs. Carl Wilhelm of Downers Grove, Ill., Mrs. Ralph Reeder of Lafayette, Ind., Mrs. H. M. Bowman of Pasadena, Calif., and Mrs. Lavern Washburn of Fairmont; and son, Warren E. of Des Moines.

50% Capacity Due Monday At Meat Plant

West Point (AP) — A labor force large enough to put production at Armour and Company's new West Point beef slaughtering plant at 50% capacity, is slated to report for work Monday, Robert E. Lee, plant general manager, said Wednesday.

Cattle will begin arriving over the weekend, he said, but supplies may not be large enough to initiate regular production at 50% of capacity on Monday. Lee said, however, that the company hopes "within a matter of weeks" to reach the full capacity of 3,000 head of cattle per week.

He said supplies will come from the immediate area, one of Nebraska's most important cattle feeding areas.

The one-story building has 36,000 square feet of floor space and holding pens large enough to accommodate 400 to 500 head of cattle.

Testing of equipment has been in progress since mid-January.

Capacity production calls for a force of 50 to 60 persons.

Beermann Lists Candidates To U.S. Service Academies

Washington — Congressman Ralph F. Beermann, First Nebraska District, Wednesday announced the names of 20 candidates who will compete for seven appointments to U.S. service academies.

Named to compete for two principal and 10 alternate appointments to the Air Force were:

Paul M. Collins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon D. Collins, 5042 Leighton, Lincoln; John David Cummins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel J. Cummins, Falls City; Daniel John Eikleberry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Eikleberry, 2053 Calvert Street, Lincoln; Jay Riley Hash, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Phleet Hash, Norfolk; Joseph MacJarred, foster son of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Witt, Shickley; Richard James Mahlin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth E. Mahlin Sr., Beatrice; Robert Dale Noyes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Darrel Arthur Noyes, Norfolk; Richard Herman Ortmeier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman J. Ortmeier, West Point; Donovan Mark Quimby, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Quimby, South Sioux City; Charles Frank Turney, son of Mrs. Esther Turney, Wakefield; Gary Ray Vasek, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald A. Vasek, Leigh; and Donald John Wright, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald H. Wright, Fremont.

Beerman said his office has one vacancy at the Military Academy. Selected to compete for it and three alternate nominations were:

John David Cummins, Falls City; Daniel J. Eikleberry, Lincoln; Hugh Andrew Shaffer, son of Colonel and Mrs. Cornelius John Shaffer, of Hooper, presently residing in Alexandria, Virginia; and Donald John Wright, Fremont.

Selected to compete for one principal appointment and five alternate nominations to the U.S. Naval Academy were:

James Franklin Kern, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Franklin Kern, Wayne; James Edward Madsen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert John Madsen, Newman Grove; Robert George Mahlin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth E. Mahlin Sr., Beatrice; Charles Anthony Myers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rasche W. Myers, 1633 Woodsview Avenue, Lincoln; James R. Sandstedt, II, son of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Sandstedt, Wahoo; and William George Wylder Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Wylder Sr., Davey.

Beermann also named 10 candidates to compete for three vacancies to the Merchant Marine Academy. They were:

Paul Maurice Collins, Lincoln; James F. Kern, Wayne; Douglas K. Ludvigsen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hans Ludvigsen, Fremont; James E. Madsen, Newman Grove; Richard James Mahlin and Robert George Mahlin, twin brothers, Beatrice; Charles Anthony Myers, Lincoln; Richard H. Ortmeier, West Point; Gary R. Vasek, Leigh; and William G. Wylder, Davey.

Beermann pointed out the First Congressional District would have one vacancy at the Air Force Academy in 1965.

NOMINATIONS REVEALED BY SEN. HRUSKA

Washington (AP) — Sen. Roman Hruska, R-Neb., announced his nominations for appointments to U.S. service academies Wednesday.

Those named must pass further examinations to receive appointments.

They include:

Military Academy—William A. Bachman, Omaha, principal; Robert L. Abel, Gering; Everett Wohlers, Chadron, and George Woodbury, Omaha, alternates.

Air Force Academy—Thomas C. Jensen, Ogallala, principal; Robert J. Oshlo, Grand Island; David W. Bouda, Omaha; Michael F. Furrow, Maywood; John R. Linton, Grand Island; and James W. Belmont, Omaha, alternates. Roger L. Wiles, Weeping Water, principal; Harlan E. Rubottom, Scottsbluff; William F. Haas, Ralston; Daryl D. Gerke, Millard; Ernest J. Novak, Dwight and George L. Roberts, Burwell, alternates.

Naval Academy—Gordon W. Craig, Lincoln, principal; James J. Kosmicki, Alliance; James E. Johnson, Neligh; Joseph Savin, Omaha; Robert B. Danberg, Omaha; Donald E. McQuitty Jr., North Platte, alternates.

Merchant Marine Academy—(all competitive for three appointments)—Harlan E. Bubottom, Scottsbluff; David W. Bouda, Omaha; Michael R. Furrow, Maywood; George L. Roberts, Burwell; Terence C. Spratlin, McCook; John R. Linton, Grand Island; William J. Haneline, Bellevue; and William D. Sammons, Lincoln.

ETV Channel At Lexington Gets Priority

Hastings (UPI) — The State Educational Television Commission Wednesday gave a high priority rating to Channel 3 at Lexington, which would serve the South Central Nebraska area.

The commission agreed to activate the channel at full power as soon as funds are made available by the Legislature.

The commission also moved to continue its study of the planned Mead tower.

Commissioners said they would seek to determine if, by reducing the size of the tower, its effectiveness might be harmed.

The Federal Aviation Agency has expressed concern that the proposed tower at Mead might be a hazard to aircraft navigation.

The full commission attended Wednesday's meeting.

THE... WEATHER

Extended Forecasts

NEBRASKA: Temperatures for the five-day period, Thursday through Monday, will average near normal. Temperatures will turn colder early in the period and become still colder over the weekend. Normal highs are lower 30s in the northeast to upper 30s in south central Nebraska. Normal lows are 10 to 16. Precipitation will average .10 to .15 of an inch, occurring as snow over the weekend.

KANSAS: Temperatures for the five-day period, Thursday through Monday, will average near normal in the west and slightly above normal in the east. Temperatures will turn colder early in the period and become still colder over the weekend. Normal highs are in the lower 40s. Normal lows are 15 in the northwest to mid 20s in the southeast. Precipitation will average .10 to .15 of an inch, occurring as snow over the weekend.

Summary Of Conditions

A low over north central Minnesota has a cold front extending to Omaha, then southwestward to the southwest corner of Kansas, then westward to southwestern Utah and southwestward through central California. Another low over northeast Arkansas has a cold front extending to western Florida and southward. Pressures are rising over southwest Canada and the northwest portion of the United States which is causing the cold front which passed through Omaha to continue to move south and east. This is causing the low in Arkansas to move northeastward and by Thursday afternoon the cold front passing through the Nebraska-Iowa area will extend from northeast Wisconsin to southwest Missouri and southwest Texas. The rain from the Arkansas low has spread as far northward as Kansas City but is expected to be pushed toward the east as the cold front pushes the Arkansas low to Ohio by Thursday afternoon.

Northerly winds will cause colder temperatures over the two-state region Thursday accompanied by considerable cloudiness. A few traces of snow are possible but not likely since the moisture supply is cut off by the low in Arkansas.

WHY SMIRNOFF INSTEAD OF ANY OTHER VODKA?

It's filtered through a "mountain" of charcoal

Of the hundreds of vodkas made today, there's not one made like Smirnoff.

Every drop of Smirnoff is filtered and refined through seven tons of activated charcoal. That's 14,000 lbs., far more charcoal filtration than other vodkas use. This "black magic" removes most of the congeners. No wonder that Smirnoff is the finest liquor in the world; crystal clear and flawless, with no noticeable liquor taste or odor.

That's why Smirnoff makes the driest of dry Martinis. Why it blends so completely in fruit juices or soft drinks. Why it's always so smooth, even on-the-rocks.

Ask for Smirnoff by name at bars and stores. Insist! Persist! Resist anything else!

Formidable State Influence

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

The week has produced a number of developments of great interest in the field of taxation. The big pitch has been in regard to tax exemption and valuations. This is one of the two parts that make up the total tax picture, the other being the amount of the levy. And everything that is going on at this time in regard to exemptions and valuations is the result of state law.

In this we find our first point of interest. This point has to do with the much-talked-about Duis amendment which requires the state to abandon the property tax if it enacts either a sales or income tax. The evil of this is that if the state should leave the property tax field, either by force or voluntarily, it would or could play havoc with the tax systems of local governments, counties and school districts. One of the most constructive influences today upon the local property tax system is the final authority of the state. The state has final authority because the county is a kind of taxing agent for the state.

County's Role Of Agent

The property owner has nothing to do directly with the state in the matter of valuations as the issue here is settled with the property owner for the state by the county. But the county has the state breathing down its neck so it cannot get out of line without facing criticism and possible reversal by the state. New tax laws make the state this year an even greater factor than has been the case in the past.

These are the laws which dictate the annual determination of tax exemption and, eventually, an entire reappraisal of all property by the various counties of the state. Currently, Lancaster County is engaged in making its exemption determinations and some interesting facts are found here.

It might be noticed, for instance, that two of the community centers in the city of Lincoln are recommended for no exemption. These centers are non-profit and serve a worthy purpose but that is not the basis of exemption. Exemption must be based on predominant use of the property for religious, charitable or educational purposes, with ownership of no consequence whatsoever. The centers are supported through the charity of the people of Lincoln but they are not used for charitable, religious or educational purposes. Rather, they are used for various social welfare purposes. By a considerable stretch of the imagination, they could be classed as educational but it would take a pretty hefty stretch.

This will further complicate the role of these centers in the future of the city and will serve to push them more toward eventual city government operation. This would be a possibility even without consideration of the tax situation but the tax deal should serve as an even greater incentive. Actually, the centers are considered a logical part of the city's public recreation program and if transferred to operation by the city would become tax exempt. Government is one case where ownership is the basis for exemption. If property is owned by the government, it is tax exempt, regardless of the use to which it is being put.

Of further interest is the taxation of such organizations as the Elks, American Legion and the Labor Temple. The property belonging to these groups has always been in contention as to taxation with the organizations claiming to be exempt and sometimes being successful in their claim. But the organizations generally fail when the test of exemption is applied to use of the property and such is currently the case.

The same thing applies to a lot of property owned by organizations that might also own property that is tax exempt. Private educational institutions and churches are generally considered tax exempt but many of them own property that will be placed on the tax rolls because that property is not used for educational or religious purposes.

All of this is aimed in one single direction—greater equity and equality of taxation. In some cases, the shift to the tax rolls is going to seem to be a harsh action but it is doubtful that the tax laws can be too stringently applied. The fewer exceptions there are, the less chance of error and of injustice we have. The more equal is the application of the tax laws, the more democratic is our government and this is an end we should not lose sight of. The fact is that we could eliminate every single exception to every single form of taxation there is in this nation and have a system of considerable merit.

Aim Toward Equality

The tougher attitude here in Nebraska will serve a constructive end. You can bet your bottom dollar that any tax favors are enjoyed first at the high income level of our economy. When we eliminate the gimmicks and favors, we tend to help those least able to pay and those, unfortunately, least able to look out after their own best interests.

"Would You Please Turn Down That Stereo Set? . . . Some Of Us Are Trying To Get Some Sleep!"

High Supports Unfavored

While a variety of proposals lend diversity to the picture of agriculture's future, the dominant trend seems to be away from compulsory grain programs and high price supports.

It was evident in President Johnson's message that his administration prefers a lower market price for grain with subsidies going to producers who limit their production. Something akin to this is already taking place in the feed grain program in which production receives a substantial price support while payment is made also for soil taken out of production.

Whether the new trend will solve the problem of surpluses and adequate market prices remains to be seen. But it does suggest a reapportionment of public money in favor of low production and of the producer.

High price supports took a healthy cut out of the program dollar in the first instance. And by increasing the surplus they promoted further charges for storage. At length this led to substantial export subsidies. Certainly, lower price supports should bring the domestic price closer to that of the world market, and in doing so should save outlays for export subsidies while eliminating some of the storage burden. This should result in a better allowance for the compliant producer.

The lower supports should also give pause to the non-complying producer. As the domestic price tends downward the non-compliant producer's deal gets poorer in relation to the complier. This was less so under a system of high price supports.

Library Windfall

Congress has struck a blow for an informed public mind.

In recent action it passed a Library Services Act, making available an expanded program of federal aid to state and local libraries. It carries authorization in the amount of $45 million. Of this $20 million will be for matching grants for the construction or remodeling of library facilities. The remaining $25 million will be available for the expansion and improvement of the library services.

The principal benefits will go to towns of 10,000 and greater population.

It should be explained that, in congressional terms, an authorization is not necessarily an appropriation. It just means that the authorized amount can be appropriated if the approved demand exists, and Congress feels like it. This means that the federal generosity will hinge largely upon matching appropriations at the state and local levels.

Roughly figured, the federal authorization could provide a maximum of one and one half cents per capita as an investment in reading and in books. That is not an impressive amount. But it is greatly better than preceding federal aid provisions for libraries. Since 1956 the federal appropriation remained at $7.5 million. That figures out at a half cent per American individual.

But if one gets the idea that the federal government is niggardly in its provisions for public reading, one is reminded that a great many localities do no better. Some 18 million Americans have no access to public libraries. Almost half the population lives in areas where library service is substandard.

Steen Uniquely Correct

Generally speaking, the argument advanced by Game Commission Director Mel Steen for retention of funds raised through hunting and fishing licenses is an argument that cannot stand. There are many parts or arms of government that would like to have given to them directly all the funds that are originally paid to them.

Police departments, for instance, might think that they should have all income derived from their enforcement of the traffic laws. Inspection departments might feel that they should have all the funds they collect as inspection fees. This could go on and on into departments that might even speculate on what they have earned, in effect, from the public.

The end result of this would be chaos. There could be no efficient accounting of funds and there could be no intelligent deciding of what public programs are to be undertaken at what time. Public programs are not approved according to sources of income, but rather, according to public need and demand. Thus, funds collected by one agency might finance a program in another agency because that is the program most in need at the moment.

In the case of hunting and fishing licenses, however, these are funds collected for a specific purpose and collected from a select group of people for the ultimate benefit of a select group. These are fees paid to provide a service, not a fee paid for the general public welfare. Thus, the hunting and fishing license income is different than other sources of income for the government. Steen is also correct in his statement that any effort to place this license income in the state's general tax fund would bring about a severe reaction from the hunters and fishermen. These are public funds that should be left as they are —earmarked for game purposes only.

Ike Calls Gifts Tissue Of Lies

WASHINGTON — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, answering a question by Lou Gordon of WXYZ Detroit about gifts to the Gettysburg farm, replied last week: "This is one man's tissue of lies."

He was referring to a column published by this writer on Jan. 25, reporting that the Gettysburg farm had been financed by three oilmen, the late W. Alton Jones of Cities Service, George E. Allen of Washington, and W. G. "Billy" Byars of Tyler, Texas.

As to whether the facts in this column were a tissue of lies or the truth, I quote a letter from Gen. Arthur S. Nevins, Ike's farm manager, dated Jan. 28, 1958, addressed to both Allen and Byars, with a carbon copy to Jones.

The letter begins with the salutation. "Dear George and Billy," proceeds to discuss part of the farm operation, and then continues:

"New subject—the funds for the farm operation are getting low, so would each of you also let me have your check in the usual amount of $2,500. A similar amount will also be transferred to the partnership account from W. Alton Jones' funds.

"I bought an exceptionally fine cow, a daughter of Eva's Bandolier Lad, Karama family, at the Thomasville sale, but I can handle her purchase price from our normal operating funds. We have sold 4 steers recently for 30 cents lb., and will have some more to sell soon.

"With warm regards to all of you."

Aside from the above letter, there is clear evidence that the Eisenhower farms were financed by Jones, Allen and Byars. E. Donald Scott, a former implement dealer and a leading Republican of Adams County, Pa., has stated that he was paid by checks on an Allen-Byars account in the Gettysburg National Bank.

Victor Re, the Gettysburg contractor who built the $30,000 showplace barn for the Eisenhower farms, said that he had been paid by checks from a joint Allen-Byars account, also that he had built three smaller barns on the Eisenhower farms at a cost of around $7,500 to $8,000 apiece, also paid out of the Allen-Byars checking account.

Robert Hartley, assistant farm manager, a graduate of Penn State University of which Milton Eisenhower was once president, is an expert on Black Angus cattle. He said that his salary was paid by Byars and Allen, as well as those of the hired hands on the place, which number between five and ten. Asked specifically if Byars and Allen paid General Nevins' salary, Hartley replied:

"I guess you'd say that."

Later he firmly repeated that the two oilmen, not Eisenhower, were the source of General Nevins' salary.

PHYLLIS BATTELLE

South For Winter?—All Bad Except For Fun And Comfort

NEW YORK — There is good news today for us people who cannot take vacations in warm climates during the winter. It is:

A resort trip at this time of year won't necessarily do anything good for you. In fact, it may make you even sicker when you come back north. How about that, fellow frozen? Wouldn't that warm the old cockles, whatever they are, or your heart?

It seems that a person's "cold acclimatization" reaches a peak around February. This means that, come February, your body is adapted to cold.

When you take a quick jet ride down to the sun country, stepping out about some three or four hours later into a balmy 80-degree temperature, with trade winds and salt breezes and palm trees and (oh, enough of that!)—your body is mightily confused.

Something called the hypothalamus, which is a small portion of the brain behind the eyes and just above the spine, begins sending out signals. It tells the body to try to keep its internal temperature constant. This is very difficult for the body to do, even under orders.

Two and one-half million sweat glands start moisturizing the skin. Surface blood vessels open wider to let more heat-carrying blood pass under the cooled skin. To fill the expanded blood vessels, fluids seep from the tissues into the blood stream. While the blood volume quickly increases, the supply of red blood corpuscles takes longer to adjust. The heart works harder to pump more blood . . .

Isn't that awful? No wonder you resort to drinking rum with all manner of fruit juices. Don't you wish you were back in Poughkeepsie?

Now, what happens? Well, according to "Science Digest," a resorter gradually becomes acclimatized to the rigorous assaults of the balmy weather and, by the end of a two-weeks' vacation, will feel "more comfortable." He will be able to "sweat less, conserve salt and be able to exercise with a smaller jump in pulse rate." He may also be able to consume more rum with less of a guilt complex.

Then it's time to come home.

However, the vacationer who has a few months to stay away in a tropical climate is in for more trouble. Several months away from the cold will cause a far greater loss of his "cold acclimatization." Going back north now will cause the surface blood vessels to constrict, cutting the flow of blood through the skin as much as 80 per cent. Since blood volume is high after being in a warm climate, constriction of the blood vessels raises blood pressure.

And "don't be surprised," says the report, "if you pick up your cold just where you left off when you return from your vacation. Respiratory diseases may not be cured by warm weather.

"Instead, the viruses and bacteria are likely to lay dormant until you get back to the cold weather they love!"

So what do you get out of a long, costly winter vacation on an island in the sun?

JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

To Your Good Health

Dear Dr. Molner: My doctor told me I had an extra systole. Can this cause a heart attack? I asked him if I should have an electrocardiograph and he said it was up to me. — MRS. S.S.

The systole (pronounced SIS-to-lee) means the pumping beat of the heart. The relaxation after each beat is diastole.

Quite a few people—usually those of tense, nervous nature — have an "extra systole" at times. At first they may say their heart has "skipped a beat." This is not what happens.

Rather, an extra beat appears in the heart's rhythm, so you have two beats close together and a noticeable pause afterward. That is when they think they have skipped a beat.

The extra systole does NOT cause a heart attack. Very rarely does it do any harm except to the nerves, if you let it.

☆ ☆ ☆

Dear Dr. Molner: I have two travel clocks with the dials marked "radium." Both are stored in my closet with my hats, etc. Will they contaminate my clothes? — M. E.

The clocks won't contaminate anything. The radium is too small in quanity.

Dear Dr. Molner: What is the meaning of "secondary anemia"? — U.P.

It means that the anemia (or lack of iron in the blood) is resulting from some other, or underlying cause. Usually giving iron in medicinal form controls the condition, but it doesn't correct the cause. Common causes of secondary anemia are bleeding hemorrhoids, bleeding ulcers, excessive menstruation. In these (and other) conditions, there's no permanent value in pumping iron into the system unless you correct the cause.

Sometimes, but not very often, faulty diet is responsible.

Dear Dr. Molner: Is the drinking of milk from one's own tested cows safe without pasteurization? — MRS. G.S.

No. ALWAYS pasteurize. Why? Because a herd that is perfect today may not be safe tomorrow. Tuberculosis, I agree, is not likely to appear overnight, but there has to be some time at which the change from "safe" to "not safe" occurs.

And that isn't the only only risk. Typhoid germs can occur because, in some way, the herd encounters impure food or water. Brucellosis (causing infectious abortion in cattle, and undulant fever in humans) is still another risk. We even know of cases in which an infected herd, removed from its original pasture, caused infection of other herds months later.

Dear Dr. Molner: I am an old lady and a diabetic. I have been told that tennis shoes should not be worn by a diabetic. Is this true? — MRS. R. L.

Be sure they fit well and have a good sole. Diabetics must be careful to avoid foot injuries — stubbing the toes, dropping something heavy on the foot, stepping on a nail. Leather shoes will give more protection, but tennis shoes are not harmful in themselves.

Dear Dr. Molner: My husband is on his feet all day at work. What causes his feet to ache almost constantly? He has gone to different doctors, but they have found nothing wrong. He is not overweight. What can he do? —MRS. A. C.

I take it that he has been to an orthopedist. If not, he should consult one. If there is no structural defect in the feet, I suggest wearing slightly larger shoes along with heavy socks. He should rest his feet as much as possible —get them in an elevated position. Of course he may not be able to do this at work but for only short intervals. While he is eating lunch for example. Warm soaks and massage at night may help.

Dear Dr. Molner: Does dyeing the hair have any effect on the skin? I have heard it is harmful and will make the hair fall out. — M. D. S.

Some dyes may be drying to the hair, making it brittle so it breaks off, but that is not the same as having it fall out. Likewise some people (and their skins) may be senstive to organic substances in dyes, so be alert for irritation, rash or the like.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Value Of Bombers

Lake Worth, Fla.

From a strictly non-political and non-scientific viewpoint, the feat of hitting a pinpoint moon target with the Ranger-6 rocket demonstrates the ability to land U.S. missiles squarely on a dime anywhere on earth. Likewise, the overall performance of Ranger-6 demonstrates the undependability of the long-range missile as a weapon of defense.

This nation's whole present concept of defense is split-second retaliation that does not allow for and could not tolerate even an infinitesimal part of the hours of delay from technical difficulties that accompany every big-scale rocket launching event. Our missiles might all work like clockwork when the chips were down, but the chances are they wouldn't.

So the big bombers might come in handy to fall back on when the enemy's missiles and bombs are spent. That the Russians should suddenly urge discarding all bombers after turning down a U.S. suggestion some time ago that it be done indicates they may be running true to form and may have hid plenty of bombers away during the interval.

Tourist Spots

Pleasant Dale, Neb.

This concerns all those who are pushing Dam. No. 13. It used to be that a person had the right to protect his property. Mr. Steen and his corps of engineers have been trespassing on these farms a long time and without permission, and this is wrong.

Now they go to Washington and change the law in their favor to take over whatever they want, without ever once considering the divine law which definitely says that we should not craftily seek to get our neighbor's inheritance or house nor obtain it by a show of right, but help and be of service to him in keeping it. Even Washington, D.C., can't change that.

We are watching Dam No. 14. A lot of farm owners and families have been moved out. Dam No. 14 will be plenty big for whatever is needed—fishing, skiing, swimming, picnicking, etc. It is better situated than Dam No. 13 because it is away from the highways and the Interstate. Why can't it be made as beautiful as Dam No. 13 is supposed to be? It is well worth driving a few miles for a quiet spot to rest. The tourist passing through has too much highway and traffic enroute and wishes for a quiet spot to enjoy while relaxing. If he's in a hurry, all he wants is a roadside picnic table, shaded, and with posting ahead. There are very few and none on the Interstate.

We visited dozens of dams this last summer and found only one near here. It was not beautiful, but neat and clean and was only in the process of being finished. It had a rocked driveway with guard posts and parking space. There was a new and neat restroom. There were still a lot of dead limbs in the water.

On our vacation, we followed the map's listing of dams. Some we never found. There were no road signs. Some were posted and we followed, only to come to such signs as "No Trespassing," "Keep Out" or "Leased." We went on to see why. Since they were on the map, we felt it was government property and therefore public.

I think Mr. Steen and his engineers should go back and finish or at least maintain such neglected recreation spots. Some we drove into and backed out. We couldn't turn around for weeds that were ankle-to-hip-high, concealing broken bottles, rocks, wire and dead tree limbs. A few had tables, some had refuse barrels with waste blowing around. A few had lids. Some of the restrooms were fit only for the flies, spiders and bugs that occupied them. We caught no fish, although all had paths to the water's edge.

In our traveling, we saw some beautiful ponds, well kept and with all that a tourist could want—camping sites, picnic tables, shrubbery, shade and mowed grounds—and away from the noise and exhaust smells of the highways. But there were very few in Nebraska.

Why not improve those we already have and see that they're kept that way? If there is need for another closer to Lincoln, how about Lancaster County? After all, they voted it in.

Another thing—what proof or guarantee do we have that another dam won't be put on the farms we buy after we're pushed out here? It takes years and a lot of hard work to fix a place like a person wants it. We have friends who moved from the area covered by Dam No. 12 to a place which is now again being investigated for a dam site. Are they going to be moved out again? And where to this time? And with what?

Tax Exemption

Lincoln, Neb.

I recently heard someone grumbling because a handicapped veteran didn't have to pay income tax on the pension that he receives now from the government because of his disability. Granted, the fellow had been struggling with his own income tax problems and this is guaranteed not to leave anyone in the best frame of mind. But I wonder if he or any others think for a moment that such a small matter as being exempt from income tax payment makes up for having to spend the rest of one's life in a wheel chair.

Another veteran said once that those who make it back from war, sound and in one piece, are lucky. Also, in a manner of speaking, those who don't make it back, at all, are lucky. But the ones who pay from here on out are the disabled.

We all owe them a debt that will never be paid, nor could it be paid with money. Let's not forget this, even at income tax time.

LIFE BEGINS AT FORTY:

Political Parties Likely To Intensify Courting Of Elders

By ROBERT PETERSON

Politicians are becoming increasingly aware of the elder vote. Those past 65 may represent only a tenth of the total population. But they represent a rousing and rising quarter of the voting population past 21 years of age.

As time passes political parties will likely develop an ardent, impassioned romance with the elder citizenry.

A straw in the wind was the creation last summer of what appears to be the nation's first politically-sponsored social and recreational club for folks past 60. It's the Evergreen Club which meets weekly from 1 to 5 in the main hall of the First Assembly District Republican Club in New York City

Here they woo the elder voter with free coffee and cake. There's dancing to records. There's instruction in French, Spanish, and painting. And there's bridge, canasta, and pinochle.

"We started the club because we felt there would be more places where elders can congregate and make new friends," said the club's founder, Mrs. Dorothy W. Steiner, a housewife and dedicated Republican volunteer.

"When I noticed that the beautiful main hall of our building with its adjoining kitchen was generally unused during the day I suggested to party heads that we turn it over to older people once a week.

"It was very simple getting started. We posted notices on bulletin boards and mailed invitations to older residents in the neighborhood. At our opening meeting we had 20 people, but now we regularly have 100 or more."

She went on to say that there are no dues and that the club is non-partisan. But you can bet party heads won't be angry if the good food and fellowship persuade non-Republican elders to fall into step with the elephant.

A splendid and significant statement on aging which will doubtless be quoted for decades is one made recently by Major Alexander P. deSeversky: "During all the change in my life—and in the world—I guess you could say I've grown old. I'm now 69. But I don't feel old.

One reason people get old and bored is that change baffles them—they feel they can't cope with it. So they retire from the confusion and sit back with their horse-and-buggy memories losing momentum and gathering years.

"But welcome change as a friend, try to visualize new possibilities and the blessings change can bring. Let it excite you, arouse your curiosity and transform you with its vitality.

"If you stay interested in everything around you, in new ways of life, in new people, in new places and ideas, you'll stay young no matter what your age. Never stop learning and never stop growing—that's the key to a rich and fascinating life."

Klosterman To Be Honored At U Of N Commencement

Henry F. Klosterman of David City will receive the Nebraska Builder award at the mid-year University of Nebraska commencement on Saturday.

Klosterman

It is the highest non-academic honor bestowed upon a Nebraskan by the Board of Regents and Klosterman will be the 19th Nebraska recipient since the award was initiated in 1946.

Klosterman will be honored for his contributions to Nebraska agriculture, to higher education, to the general welfare of his community and state, and for his enthusiasm for progress.

He came to Nebraska at the invitation of an uncle and enrolled at the University in 1927. Since then his occupation has been a combination of farming, livestock feeding, community banking and business, but his interests and energies have been directed also to a variety of other endeavors.

He has given leadership to soil and water conservation programs, locally and statewide. He has participated in agricultural research projects and has served as a valuable adviser on agricultural matters. He is an active member of the Nebraska Resources Committee and has represented Nebraska in national conferences on the development of small business.

President Asks New Laws For Protection Of Consumer

Washington (AP) — President Johnson asked Congress Wednesday for new laws to protect consumers against phony packaging and disguised interest charges. And he suggested possible use of federal experts to help low-income families prepare household budgets.

Johnson, in a special message on consumer interests, endorsed nine specific pieces of legislation including pending bills to ban deceptive packaging and to require full disclosure of interest rates on installment purchases.

Eight of the nine measures had the endorsement or sponsorship of the late President John F. Kennedy. The ninth proposal, still to be introduced, would require inspection of all meat and poultry sold in the country, whether or not it crossed state lines.

"For far too long," Johnson said, "the consumer has had too little voice and too little weight in government." The President said that while labor, business, farmers and professional groups have been well represented, the consumer "has had to take a back seat."

Clear-Channel Voice

Promising the customer "a loud, clear-channel voice at the topmost levels of government," Johnson said, "we cannot rest content until he is in the front row."

The most novel idea in the message — the use of trained government workers to help learn more about budgeting and how to "get the most for their money" — was not put forward in the form of legislation.

Instead, Johnson said he was asking all federal agencies interested in consumer education to explore fully the possibility of adapting the agricultural extension service concept, "so successful in rural areas," to cities and towns.

The President also said the government would try to promote consumer education in the schools and encourage more young people "to seek instruction in the fundamentals of budgeting, buying and borrowing."

He called, too, for federal efforts to devise ways of "keeping the public continuously informed of developments of importance in the consumer field."

Conferences Due

He said his committee on consumer interests soon will begin a series of regional conferences to explore "the problems of adequate consumer information."

He said his consumer committee will draft recommendations for improving protection against "the abuses of poor quality, high prices and exaggerated claims" in the service fields.

In the legislative area, Johnson devoted most attention to truth-in-packaging proposals.

"The shopper ought to be able to tell at a glance," he said, "what is in the package, how much of it varies, and how much it costs."

Man And Woman Struck By Pickup

Mrs. Gay Smith, 45, of Hickman, and Richard Evenson, 26, of 1210 Carlos Drive, were treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital for cuts and bruises and released after they were struck by a pick-up truck while crossing 9th at N Wednesday morning.

Police identified the pick-up driver as 36-year-old Elmer E. Schmidt of 4200 Cornhusker. They said Schmidt was eastbound on N, turning south onto 9th.

Mexican Exports Up

Mexico City (AP) — Mexico's exports increased during the first 10 months of 1963 by $21,280,000 over 1962. The total was $780 million, but imports were still higher—$1,027,040,000 — an increase of $84,560,000.

8th Power Service Area Pact OK'd

The Nebraska Power Review Board Wednesday approved its eighth retail service area agreement.

Receiving board approval was a pact between Cornhusker Public Power District and Elkhorn Rural Public Power District.

Following a brief meeting, board members went behind closed doors to continue work on their decision in the rate dispute between Consumers Public Power District and the Nebraska Public Power System.

The board has already reached a decision in the case, but will not reveal it publicly until Feb. 19 when its recommendations have been reduced to writing.

N.D. Coal Power For Nebraskans Study Extended

Nebraska will continue to study the possibility of obtaining new generation from North Dakota's power-rich lignite coal fields.

That was the word Wednesday from State Power Review Board Chairman Clair Callan of Odell.

He said a representative of the board will discuss the possibility at a meeting in Sioux Falls, S.D., Feb. 18 between Missouri River Basin power suppliers.

"We are definitely interested in the North Dakota offer," Callan said. "Nebraska needs additional power and this could be one source."

The Basin Electric Cooperative of Bismarck, N.D., has offered lignite-fueled power to Nebraska. Basin has informed the board it has both short and long-term power available at a general rate of $1.10 per kilowatt per month.

However, Callan said, a representative of basin has also informed the board that this rate offer is subject to negotiation.

Basin estimates it will have 70,000 to 80,000 kilowatts of electricity available by December of 1965, 50,000 to 60,000 kilowatts by 1967 and a lesser quantity by 1968.

Callan said the board has informed all public power agencies in Nebraska of Basin's offer. He said he understands several have, in turn, written to Basin asking for more definite rate figures.

Curtis Says Reynolds Must Have Been 'A Man Of Some Standing'

Washington (AP) — Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb., one of the senators investigating Robert G. Baker, spoke up Wednesday in defense of the "past" of Don Reynolds, a key witness in the probe.

Curtis released a statement pointing to insurance man Reynolds' sale of $200,000 worth of insurance on the life of then-Senate majority leader Johnson as among the reasons why he believes Reynolds "must have some standing and reliability."

Curtis is the senior Republican member of the Senate Rules Committee investigating Baker's outside business activities while Baker was secretary to the Senate Democrats. Curtis declined to leave the Senate chamber to answer a reporter's questions about the statement.

The statement did not say why Curtis was issuing it. He has protested to the committee that efforts were afoot to discredit Reynolds' testimony.

Didn't Know Him

Curtis said he never knew Reynolds until the Washington and Silver Springs, Md., insurance man testified last month before the Rules Committee concerning his business association with Baker.

Curtis suggested there might be variances in testimony concerning events of six or seven years ago, but that the truth can be learned by examining records and other documentary evidence.

"As for Mr. Reynolds' past," Curtis said, "he was apparently a man of some standing because he was selected by Robert Baker and others to write the $14 million contractor's bond on the District of Columbia stadium," Curtis said.

"Mr. Reynolds apparently conducted himself in a reliable manner, because Mr. Robert Baker entrusted him to write $1 million worth of insurance on Baker's Carousel Motel."

Reynolds has testified that in 1957 he handled the sale of $100,000 of insurance on the life of Johnson, who then was a senator, and that the amount of the insurance later was increased to $200,000.

'Some Standing'

Said Curtis, "It should also be pointed out that an insurance man who can successfully participate in a transaction involving $200,000 of life insurance upon an individual must have some standing and reliability."

The senator said Reynolds produced cancelled checks, bank records and other records to support his testimony that in 1963 he paid Baker $4,000 as commissions on the stadium performance bond, and another $1,500 from the commissions to William W. McLeod, then clerk of the House District of Columbia Committee; and that in 1959 after the life insurance sale he paid more than $500 for the gift of a hi-fi set to Johnson. The President subsequently referred to the hi-fi as a gift from Baker.

Curtis said "the tangible evidence supports" Reynolds' testimony that he bought advertising time on an Austin, Tex., television station controlled by the Johnson family after handling the insurance on Johnson's life, although he had no use for it in his own business, and finally farmed out the time at a financial loss to a cookware manufacturer.

"If the gift giving was done by Baker and not by Don Reynolds, the matter can be easily cleared up," Curtis concluded. "Mr. Baker can appear, produce his cancelled checks, invoices and bank records and submit himself to cross examination by the committee."

House Beats Attempts To Weaken Rights Bill

Washington (AP) — The House retained a strong public accommodations section in the civil rights bill Wednesday night after beating back a dozen attempts to weaken it.

The final effort by opponents, an attempt to sharply limit the coverage of the provision, was defeated on a standing vote of 153 to 68.

That left nearly intact what Negro leaders regard as the heart of the omnibus civil rights bill and provided the bipartisan coalition supporting it with a smashing victory.

Bars Discrimination

The public accommodations section would bar hotels, motels, restaurants, movies and other places serving the public from discriminating against Negroes.

For nearly three days southern opponents battered at it trying to soften its various provisions but the major attack was made by Rep. George Meader, R-Mich., who sought to scrap the entire provision for a much narrower one of his own.

Under Meader's proposal only facilities on, or advertised along, interstate or primary highways would have been covered. He called his proposal "fair, reasonable, workable and as far as the federal government ought to move in this area at this time."

The vote on Meader's amendment climaxed a day in which the Republican-Democratic coalition turned back all major threats. The southerners, however, won a victory by slightly narrowing the constitutional grounds on which the section would be based.

The bill written by the Judiciary Committee would ban racial discrimination by hotels, motels, restaurants, movies, sports arenas and other places open to the general public, based on the authority of Congress to regulate interstate commerce.

In addition, it would extend to all establishments in which discrimination is required by state or local law, or by some positive state action, under the 14th Amendment's requirement that no state can deny a citizen the equal protection of the law.

Speed Urged

As consideration of amendments dragged through the third day with eight more sections of the bill still to be considered, leaders of both parties urged more speed.

Rep. Charles A. Halleck, R-Ind., the GOP leader, said he hoped the House would start coming in early and staying late. "If we just go on and on and on I don't know when we will complete consideration," he said.

The Democratic leader, Rep. Carl Albert of Oklahoma, said the leadership did not want to be accused of trying to "railroad" the bill through the House. He agreed, however, that early and late sessions the rest of the week would be advisable.

Churches In City Asked To Take Stand On Race

The Mayor's Council on Human Relations and Mayor Dean Petersen Wednesday asked Lincoln churches "to take their stand for open housing and nondiscriminatory employment."

Petersen and Chairman Carroll Thompson said letters are being mailed to all local churches and a list of churches declaring their support would be made public April 12.

Noting the council's work "is to help the community rid itself of racial discrimination in housing or employment," the letter said the assistance of churches and their members is being sought.

"The national leadership of the three major religious faiths have made strong statements urging their members to help in a nationwide effort to put an end to racial discrimination.

"Such statements provide a base for local action which can be helpful . . . (and) such a stand now will serve as a guide to others in the community, and will help set the tone for discrimination-free living in our community."

Both Petersen and Thompson expressed appreciation for the effective work already done by Lincoln churches and church leaders and urged "continuing effort" to bring about that more perfect community.

Mayor To Chicago To Talk Of Downtown Plan

Mayor Dean Petersen will confer Thursday in Chicago with Barton-Aschman Associates regarding the proposed downtown Lincoln development plan of 1961.

Accompanying the mayor were Planning Director Douglas Brogden and L.A. Enersen, a Lincoln arthitect and plan coordinator for Downtown Development of Lincoln Inc.

Petersen said before departing that the purpose of the trip was to become "familiar" with the Barton-Aschman plan.

Non-Traffic Part

He recently conferred with the consulting firm regarding downtown Lincoln traffic problems, but said this conference would deal with non-traffic aspects of the plan.

The Barton-Aschman firm recommended in a 1961 study costing $30,000 that a compact hard-core area be maintained in the downtown business district.

Major features of this plan included a partial O St. mall, civic center on 15th, maintenance of a high-density retail district on O between 10th and 14th and zoning for secondary retail activity, special purpose offices and off-street parking on the edge of the retail core.

The mayor said he has been in contact with DDL officials and they are "definitely interested" in implementation of the downtown plan.

Though DDL President John Lawlor had outlined a timetable for the plan in early 1962, downtown plan activity has been virtually dormant.

The downtown development plan is incorporated into the city's 1980 Comprehensive Plan made by Harland Bartholomew & Associates of St. Louis for the City-County Planning Commission.

Bishop Cites Shortcoming Of Generation

Failure to understand the sinful side of man's life is one of our generation's weaknesses, Methodist Bishop Kenneth Copeland of Nebraska told Wesleyan University students Wednesday night.

The bishop is delivering lectures during Religion-in-Life week at Wesleyan ending Friday morning.

Spiritual depression, fear, a moral and spiritual disease which is both infectious and contagious, and spiritual death are characteristics of a man who tries to "go it alone" without God, the bishop said.

Only God

"The Christian faith teaches us that sins can be forgiven, but that only God can forgive," he continued.

In his opening lecture Wednesday morning, Bishop Copeland said the deepest hunger of man is to know God for himself.

The bishop challenged students to think about God not as being "away up yonder" but as the God "infinitely near; inside the life of man."

Key

Understanding God is the key to understanding ourselves and our place in society, he said.

"To know God, one must understand that spiritual truth comes not solely through research, but through divine revelation," Bishop Copeland said.

The bishop will give his last two lectures Thursday and Friday mornings.

Youth Molests Two Children At Knifepoint

A 16 or 18-year-old youth molested two small children at knifepoint near 59th and Cleveland, police said Wednesday.

The 9-year-old boy and his 8-year-old sister were walking home from a store when they were stopped by the youth who told them he was a policeman and would walk a ways with them, according to police.

The little girl told police the boy pulled a knife and told her to "lift up her dress" or he would "stick" her with the knife. She said she lifted her dress and he molested her with his hand.

The knife-wielding teen-ager then demanded the little boy take part in an unnatural sex act with him.

The two children described the teen-ager as a white male, about 5 feet 8 inches tall, weighing between 135 and 140 pounds. They said he had bushy dark hair that fell on his forehead.

Farm Price Index Rises 6 Pct.

Prices received by Nebraska farmers for commodities they produce climbed six percent during the month ended Jan. 15, the State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics reported Wednesday.

But the mid-January index at 243, while up 13 points from mid-December, was 23 points below mid-January of last year.

Higher prices for livestock and most crops were reflected in the index rise from the previous month.

The all crops index of 202 was four points above the previous months and five points above January of last year.

The all livestock and livestock products index of 245 was three points above mid-December, but down 47 points for the year.

The period of 1910-14 is given an index rating of 100 for the comparative purposes.

Cattle prices averaged $20.60 per hundredweight at mid-January, a $1.50 advance for the month but $4.60 under last year's level.

Hog prices averaged $14.40, up $1.10 for the month but $1 below last year.

Wheat prices during the month advanced three cents to $1.95 per bushel; corn gained four cents to $1.10; grain sorghum advanced four cents to $1.60 per hundredweight, and oats gained two cents to 68 cents a bushel.

Dahl, McGrath File For Unicam

Clifford M. Dahl of Wayne Wednesday filed as a candidate for the Legislature from the 18th District which covers Pierce, Wayne and Stanton Counties.

Jack McGrath of Crab Orchard filed for state senator from the 1st District which includes Johnson, Nemaha, Pawnee and Richardson Counties.

Bid Opening Set For Merritt Dam Roads, Facilities

Ainsworth — Bureau of Reclamation construction engineer, R. L. Boyce, announced that bids will be opened at 10 a.m. Feb. 18 for construction of access roads and basic facilities for Merritt Dam and Reservoir, located approximately 25 miles southwest of Valentine.

The bids will be publicly opened and read in the conference room at the Ainsworth Division office.

The work is separated into four schedules and bids will be considered for one or all or any combination of schedules.

MRS. MORRISON: 'GOD NEEDED'

Washington (AP)—Mrs. Frank B. Morrison, wife of Nebraska's governor, told a congressional wive's luncheon group Wednesday there is a real need "for a close contact with your God in the fast and busy confused world we live in."

"Before Frank was elected governor," Mrs. Morrison said, "I realized the need for Christianity in your living but never until the last three years have I realized how desperately I need it. I feel I represent Nebraskans, particularly women, and I have a real need for it now.

"I don't know what I would do without it in making decisions I must make from day to day."

The luncheon was held in connection with a seminar of the International Christian Leadership organization and followed a presidential prayer breakfast and a simultaneous prayer breakfast by congressional wives.

Morrison attended the presidential prayer breakfast.

Fund Covers Reserve Teacher Cost

By BETTY PERSON
Star Staff Writer

The appropriation made by the 1963 Legislature for the state's reserve teachers will "comfortably cover" foreseeable expenditures in the program, Asst. State Education Commissioner Leroy Ortgiesen reported Wednesday.

A total of 677 former teachers now have reserve status under the expanded program authorized by the last Legislature, an increase of 577.

The program was established by the 1957 Legislature to provide a method of allowing pension payments to former longtime Nebraska teachers whose time of retirement precluded them from receiving any, or only very small, benefits from the regular teacher retirement system.

Dr. Ortgiesen said reserve payments for January, first full month of operation under the new program, totaled $19,025.

A few more teachers will be added to the program, he said, because some whose applications were approved before the Jan. 1 deadline have not yet turned in their Social Security numbers and cannot be paid without them.

The addition, however, and administrative cost of the program should still bring the total well within the margin of the $484,453 appropriated by the Legislature which had estimated a possible total of 825 persons eligible for reserve status.

The benefits have been increased to $840 annually, payable in 12 equal monthly installments, less any amount a reserve teacher may receive from the regular retirement system.

State Agencies To Discuss Cash Switch With Senators

Representatives of some major state agencies involved in a proposed transfer of 94 cash funds into the state's general fund will meet with the Legislative Council Executive Board Monday to discuss the proposal.

Peat, Marwick, Mitchell & Co., national accounting firm conducting a study of state government accounting procedures, has recommended the fund transfer to simplify bookkeeping procedures.

They also have said fund simplication could free approximately another $1 million for state investment purposes.

Sen. Harold Stryker of Rising City, chairman of the executive board, said the board and agency representatives will discuss problems "that would be involved regarding federal matching funds and statutory changes."

Representatives of the state attorney general, tax commissioner, treasurer and auditor also will attend the meeting.

LHS Student To Be In U.S. Contest In Art

Omaha — Frederick McDaniel of 4207 Lenox Ave., a Lincoln High School student, has been selected to compete for one of more than 90 scholarships in the National Scholastic Art Awards competition.

McDaniel will have a portfolio of his work submitted in the scholarship competition and will also have one oil painting submitted separately for national competition.

McDaniel's work is among 84 Nebraska entries to be entered in the competition in New York. The Nebraska regional exhibit held in Omaha drew 1,342 pieces of work.

Four students have been selected to compete for a $100 award in the New York judging. They are Francis Mion and Ron Longsdorf of Omaha Benson High School, Sharon Michaelson of North, and Timothy McDonald of Council Bluffs, a Creighton Prep student.

Thirty-four gold key awards are being presented to Nebraska senior high school students and 33 to junior high school students whose entries are being submitted to national competition.

Longsdorf won four of the senior gold keys and Miss Mion three.

The gold key winners, from various Nebraska schools, will be guests at a banquet staged by Brandeis store Feb. 11. Their parents, art teachers and principals also have been invited.

Yemenis To Have Paper Currency

San'a, Yemen (AP) —Yemen will issue paper currency for the first time in the Arabian country's history.

Yemenis have been using Maria Theresa silver thalers which originally came from Austria.

Rip Van Winkle couldn't sleep with nagging backache

Now! You can get the fast relief you need from nagging backache, headache and muscular aches and pains that often cause restless nights and miserable tired-out feelings. When these discomforts come on with over-exertion or stress and strain — you want relief — want it fast! Another disturbance may be mild bladder irritation following wrong food and drink — often setting up a restless uncomfortable feeling.

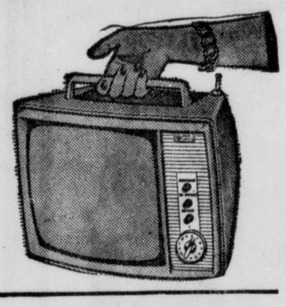

Doan's Pills work fast in 3 separate ways: 1. by speedy pain-relieving action to ease torment of nagging backache, headaches, muscular aches and pains. 2. by soothing effect on bladder irritation. 3. by mild diuretic action tending to increase output of the 15 miles of kidney tubes.

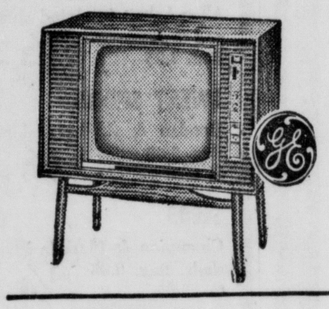

Enjoy a good night's sleep and the same happy relief millions have for over 60 years. For convenience, ask for the large size. Get Doan's Pills today!

11 Counties Will Try To Keep ARA Designation

All 11 Nebraska counties designated as redevelopment areas under the Area Redevelopment Act (ARA) are taking steps to retain this designation following a recent announcement threatening eligibility under the ARA program.

Governing boards in Boone, Buffalo, Custer, Dawson, Garfield, Greeley, Howard, Loup, Nance, Valley and Wheeler Counties received notification from the U.S. Department of Commerce early in January that ARA designation would be withdrawn unless an Overall Economic Development Program (OEDP) was submitted by Jan. 31, or an intetnion officially recorded by the county to develop such a program by Mar. 31.

William T. Batt Jr., ARA administrator, said the administrative order was based on the original intent of Congress in passing ARA legislation in May 1961 "that this should be a voluntary program extended only to those areas which manifest a desire to improve their economic growth with federal assistance."

Originally, 12 counties in the "transition area" of Nebraska —between the intensive farming lands in the eastern part of the state and the extensive cattle and wheat raising portion in the west—had been approved under the former rural development program in 1960 and had been designated when the Area Redevelopment Act was signed into law the following year.

The Sherman County Rural Area Development (RAD) committee developed an OEDP in 1962, which followed all prescribed procedures and received final approval from the Department of Commerce. At present, this is the only Nebraska county with an approved OEDP.

Rural area development committees have or are being organized in all 11 counties as a vehicle for putting together an OEDP by the Mar. 31 deadline, according to P. S. Sutton of Lincoln, associate state extension leader of programs and reports, who serves as executive secretary of the state RAD committee.

7,700 Fewer Nebraskans Working At End Of December

Employment in Nebraska continued to decline from November to December 1963 by an estimated 7,700 as winter weather curtailed outdoor construction and agriculture work.

In the Lincoln area December employment declined by 200 to 67,800.

Ag employment dropped by 5,000, salary workers fell back 1,600 and self-employed and domestic workers decreased by 1,100.

From December 1962 to December 1963, employment fell 4,500. Non-agricultural wage and salary group increased 2,000 during the year.

Government Gain

Government showed the largest employment advance in 1963 with a gain of 1,500 workers mostly due to a 1,299 increase in educational staffs.

Also showing gains in 1963 were services, up 1,300; finance, insurance and real estate, up 700, and trade, up 600.

Transportation, communication and utilities sustained a minor yearly loss of 200 workers. Construction was down 300 in the yearly total. Total manufacturing showed a loss of 1,100 for the year.

Unemployment increased from 17,000 in November to 21,000 in December, compared to 20,000 in December 1962. Unemployment went from 2.8% in November to 3.5% in December.

Average weekly earnings of the 50,900 production workers declined by 27 cents from November to December. The average number of hours decreased by four-tenths of an hour, while the hourly pay rate increased one cent.

The over-all picture for the year showed a gain of about $5.50 in weekly earnings from December 1962 to December 1963. Production workers toiled five-tenths of an hour less but earned 10 cents more per hour.

In Lincoln, 2,000—2.9%—of the labor force was unemployed during December 1963. This was an increase of 300 from November.

In December 1962, Lincoln unemployment totaled 1,850 or 2.7%.

A summary of unemployment insurance claimants for December showed 31% had last worked in construction, 29% in manufacturing and 21% in trade.

Many Unskilled

Job-seekers were classifed as four per cent professional and managerial; 19% clerical and sales; nine per cent services, six percent skilled, 13% semiskilled and 49% unskilled and other.

The largest employment increase in Lincoln took place in retail trade where 750 part-time and temporary holiday workers were hired.

Increases in trade and governmental employment account for most of the 650 increases in wage and salary workers over one year ago.

Omaha Lawyers Propose Fair Housing Plan

Omaha (AP) — A group of Omaha lawyers proposed a fair housing practices law Wednesday.

Leo Eisenstatt, the chairman, said the proposal would be offered "to any group requesting it."

He explained the Omaha lawyers for fair housing committee was formed after the Omaha Bar Association turned down a request by the Omaha Council of churches and other groups to draw up a model ordinance for City Council consideration.

Eisenstatt explained the bar association "is not in a position to respond to such requests."

Accompanying the ordinance proposal is a statement by the lawyers' committee defending constitutionality of fair housing legislation.

The committee said fair housing legislation by the city would curb a great many of the unfair housing practices which occur in Omaha.

The ordinance would prohibit those selling, renting or leasing real estate or their agents from refusing to deal because of a prospect's race, or from representing property as being unavailable because of a prospect's race.

Also prohibited would be real estate advertising indicating discrimination, discriminating in housing financing.

The penalty for violation of the ordinance would be a fine of $25 to $500.

Oldsters To Give Youngsters Look At Pioneer Days

Omaha (UPI)—School kids here will learn history from people who helped make it starting this spring.

The third and fourth grades of Omaha public school will host members of the Omaha chapter of the American Association of Retired Persons, who will relate their own experiences during the pioneer days.

The talks will be tape-recorded for use in the future.

4 Kansans Held In Break-In Try

Fairbury (AP) — Four young people from Kansas were held by Fairbury police Wednesday after being caught while attempting to break into a Fairbury filling station Tuesday night. Charges were not filed pending completion of the investigation.

The four had a car reported stolen in Garden City, Kan., when officers converged on the filling station after being notified there was a disturbance going on there.

Items found in the car prompted authorities to investigate other burglaries including breakins at Red Cloud and York. After leaving Wichita a week ago, the four said they had gone to Ogallala and Scottsbluff, Neb., and then turned eastward, Holloway said.

The filling station was entered by breaking a glass in the front door. The wife of the owner heard the noise, called the sheriff's office and both sheriff's officers and police went to the station.

Variety--Spice In Suburban Activity

A June Bride-Elect

The betrothal of Miss Patricia Irene Johnston to H. Lee Green of Lincoln, is being announced this morning by the bride-elect's mother, Mrs. Marguerite C. Johnston of San Diego, Calif.

The wedding will take place on June 6, at the Linda Vista Baptist Church in San Diego.

Associated with General Dynamics at the Lincoln Air Force Base, Mr. Green has completed three years service with the Army. His fiancee also is employed with General Dynamics at Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif.

PARK MANOR

It seems that the weather is either freezing or no-coat-needed warm, and for many suburban mothers, this is presenting a problem. How do you plan what the children will wear the next day?

No mother wants to send her daughter to school in ski pants, mittens, and a wool scarf, when the rest of the children will be wearing cotton dresses and a sweater, but just how do you know?

The problem isn't as perplexing for little boys, who by their nature disregard the problem. They just keep taking off coats, sweaters, scarfs, and mittens until they reach a favorable temperature, and then leave the coats, sweaters, scarfs, and mittens at school or at a friend's home where they remain until June.

This problem will be of no concern to Mrs. Stuart Eddins, at least for two weeks. She and her two children, Stuart Jr. and Susan Kay, will be leaving for Huntington, W.Va., Friday morning.

Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Eddins at the moment are Mrs. Eddins' parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Mobayed of Huntington, who arrived Wednesday morning, and who will be accompanying Mrs. Eddins and family back to West Virginia for a winter's vacation.

FIENE HEIGHTS

Mr. and Mrs. Leland Yant went to Lexington, Mo. last weekend to visit their son, Roger, who is attending Wentworth Military Academy.

Accompanying Mr. and Mrs. Yant was Miss Marcia Bowlin, who attended the Military Ball at Wentworth with Roger. Mr. and Mrs. Yant and Miss Bowlin returned home Sunday evening.

HOLLYWOOD HEIGHTS

No suburban area has the exclusive patent on guests, as is proven by Mr. and Mrs. Dean A. Shamburg and their son, Tommy. Mrs. Shamburg's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Haddix of Western were dinner guests at the Shamburg's Hollywood Heights home last Sunday.

Women Are People!

With the statement that "I consider women to be people as men", Senator Margaret Chase Smith, latest contender for the Republican nomination for President, told members of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs attending a legislative conference in Washington, D.C., that inertia on the part of women and opposition on the part of men were the reasons why women haven't achieved leadership in politics.

Stressing her belief that those who "make the breaks" also "get the breaks", Senator Smith, who is a former president of the Maine B, PW Clubs, said that "women must by their own actions, create and force their increased availability."

Also a featured speaker was the Honorable Esther Peterson, Assistant Secretary of Labor and Special Assistant to the President for Consumer Problems, who spoke on the report of the President's Commission on the Status of Women and the President's plan to put 50 women in top governmental jobs.

The three-day meeting last weekend also included a conducted tour of the White House and a reception at which state B, PW leaders entertained their Congressmen

Nebraska B, PW representatives at the meeting were Miss Sarah Jane Cunningham of McCook, national third vice president; Miss Lucile Stutheit, Scottsbluff, state president; and Miss Hanna Schmidt, Fremont, state first vice president.

KESSLER HEIGHTS

An informal evening of bridge occupied Friday night for Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mason, whose guests were Mr. and Mrs. Vern Damkroger.

Bridge is of interest to many Kessler Heights residents, but at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Sramcik, bowling is the main activity right now.

Mr. and Mrs. Sramcik leave next Saturday for Columbus, where Mr. Sramcik will be one of the participants in a bowling tournament.

KIMBERLY HEIGHTS

Mrs. Howard G. Frey and her daughter, Donna Jean, recently entertained Mrs. Frey's niece and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Gehre, who were residents of Kearney at that time.

On Saturday however, Mr. and Mrs. Gehre moved to Lincoln, and Mr. Gehre will attend the University of Nebraska while he works toward his Master's degree.

COUNTRY CLUB TERRACE

The St. Paul Winter Festival attracted Country Club Terrace residents, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Smith and their children, Susan, Craig, and Kim, who returned last Sunday from their trip to St. Paul, Minn.

Susan was one of Nebraska's contestants for the National Majorettes Contest, which was the primary reason for the trip. While in St. Paul, the male members of the Smith family enjoyed an afternoon of tobogganing.

Mrs. Phillip Bunkers was hostess at a Thursday evening coffee at her home, honoring Mrs. Peter Saalfield, who recently moved to Lincoln with her husband and two sons from Little Falls, N.J.

Guests for the informal get-together were Mrs. Hal Gillette, Mrs. Gerald Smith, Mrs. Tony Fridrick, Mrs. George Pearce, Mrs. Marvin Price, and Mrs. Harold Kubick.

Wedding Plans Are Revealed

A late winter bride-elect whose wedding will be an event of Saturday, Feb. 8, is Miss Mary Lynne Weltzin whose marriage to Harvey Clay Heald, III, will be solemnized at Blessed Sacrament Church.

Attending Miss Weltzin as maid of honor for the high noon ceremony will be Miss Barbara Huffaker, and the bridemaids will be the bride-elect's sister, Miss Leslie Weltzin of Alexandria, La.; her fiance's sister, Miss Sally Heald; Miss Mary Lou Spratt and Miss Marcia Stainbrook.

Lonnie Bayer will serve Mr. Heald as best man, and seating the guests will be Tom Peterson, George Chisholm, Tom Davies, Dick Seberg, Charles Whitney, Jack Nealon and William Hemmer.

On Wednesday evening, the soon-to-be bride was the guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower for which Mrs. Catherine Calder was hostess at her home. The guests were invited for an 8 o'clock dessert-supper and informal evening.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Heald, II, will be host and hostess on Friday evening when they will entertain at dinner at Holiday Inn in courtesy to their son and Miss Weltzin.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Weltzin of Alexandria, La., the bride-to-be is a graduate of St. Elizabeth Hospital School of Nursing and is a student at the University of Nebraska. A member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity, Mr. Heald is a graduate of the University of Nebraska Revealing plans this morning for her appraoching wedding is Miss Lois Edwards, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. A. H. Edwards, who has chosen Saturday, Feb. 15, as the date for her marriage to W. Michael Anderson of Wisconsin Rapids, Wis.

For the evening service, which will be solemnized at 8 o'clock at the First Assembly of God Church, Miss Edwards has named her sister, Miss Dorothy Edwards, as her maid of honor. Her bridematron will be Mrs. Fred Smith, and lighting the candles will be Miss Sherry Birdwell and Miss Laura Elliott.

Miss Becky Hembree will be the flower girl, and carrying the rings will be Kevin Lybarger.

Serving Mr. Anderson as best man will be Vern Norman, and the ushers will be Ken Hinkle, John Miller, Michael Allerton and Clyde Christian.

Questions And Answers

Patricia Scott

Q. How do you bind scallops rather than face them? —MRS. L. M.

A. First cut a strip four times the width of the finished binding you will want, and allow ⅛ inch for each seam allowance. Fold binding in half, right sides out and sew edges to the scalloped edge, with right sides together. When stitching, ease the binding a bit around the curves and stretch at the corners. Clip the corners and around the curves. Turn the binding to the inside and hem the folded edge. At each corner form a pleat with the excess fabric.

Q. I keep hearing about a new fabric called Fibranne in ready-made dresses. What is it?—MRS. S. McC.

A. It is an acetate fabric with a great deal of body and a linen-like weave. It is much more crease resistant than linen. However, several similar types are on the market.

Q. When making dresses of wash-n-wear fabrics should I avoid certain styles? —MISS H. C.

A. You can't shrink or ease in excess fullness on these fabrics because of the chemicals with which they have been treated. Therefore, stay away from designs that are intricate and have a great many seams. A princess line is bad because it has curved seams. This would be difficult with a fabric that could not be eased. Avoid set-in sleeves for the same reason. Kimono sleeves are all right.

Opening lead — king of hearts.

As the play of a hand progresses, declarer learns more and more about the composition of the opponents' cards, and this, in turn, frequently enables him to play the hand to the best effect.

Examine this deal, which occurred in the women's world championship in 1960. It was played in the match between Great Britain and Ireland. You may not approve of the heart bid by the Irish East (Mrs. Fellowes), but it was based in part on the vulnerability conditions.

The two notrump bid by North (Mrs. Whitaker) was the unusual variety, and was equivalent to a takeout double except that it showed length in the minor suits only. When South (Mrs. Markus) responded three clubs, Mrs. Whitaker optimistically jumped to five.

West (Mrs. Maguire) led the king and another heart and East continued with a heart, ruffed in dummy. Mrs. Markus thus learned that East had started with a six-card suit, and, of course, already knew that East's opening bid was lacking in substance.

This knowledge had a great bearing on the problem of how to play the clubs so as to avoid a trump loser, which was the crux of the hand. Nothing could be done to make the contract if East had the guarded king of clubs, so Mrs. Markus had to assume that West had that card.

Accordingly, she played a diamond to the king and led the jack of clubs (not the two, which would ordinarily be the better play). West covered with the king, taken by the ace.

The question now was whether East had started with a singleton club, and Mrs. Markus rightly decided that East would not have opened the bidding unless she had had this distributional feature.

She therefore ruffed a diamond, led a club, and finessed the nine. As a result, Mrs. Markus made five clubs.

At the other table, where the Irish declarer at the same contract did not have the benefit of an opening bid by East, South played the clubs normally and went down one.

Fascinating Topics Banish Winter Doldrums For The Members Of Lincoln Women's Groups

Let no one say that midwinter is a dull time of year —at least not for the feminine residents of the city who are active in clubs and community organizations. It seems that these are the months when the most interesting programs are scheduled and it would take extreme laziness, or a blizzard at least, to turn one's back on an afternoon or evening devoted to antique glass, spring fashions, travels in the Orient, or words of wisdom on social security — all of which are on the club calendar for the next few days.

"A Working Visit to the Orient", is the topic of the talk to be given by Mrs. Donald A. Gerhard on Thursday when the members of the Thursday Morning Lecture Circle will meet at the YWCA.

The program will begin at 10 o'clock.

A surprise program "for fun, only" has been planned for the members of the Reserve Officers Association Ladies on Thursday evening.

The members will meet at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. L. C. Kubicek, 5640 South St.

Mrs. Dean Peterson, wife of Lincoln's mayor, will talk on her collection of antique glass for the members of Deborah Avery Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, at the group's luncheon-meeting Friday at the Hotel Cornhusker.

Special guests at the 12:30 o'clock luncheon will be the winners of the chapter's annual Good Citizen essay contest, Miss Jan McDaniel of Southeast High School, first place, and Miss Susie Diffenderfer of Lincoln High, second place.

Mrs. Nellye H. Knight will present awards to the winners, whose mothers, Mrs. Richard A. McDaniel and Mrs. Virginia Diffenderfer, also will be chapter guests.

A luncheon and fashion show has been planned for the Mothers Club members and alumnae of Sigma Kappa sorority on Saturday afternoon at the Plaza Restaurant, Winthrop Rd. and South.

Active chapter members have been invited to attend, and in charge of arrangements is Mrs. David White assisted by Miss Sandra Casey and Mrs. Donald Dischner.

Mrs. Samuel D. Smith will serve as narrator for the show, which will follow the 1 o'clock luncheon, and actives, alumnae and mothers club members who will model include Mrs. M. J. Cook and daughter, Merla, Mrs. M. E. Brumfield and daughter, Marcia, Mrs. A. J. Whitmer, and Mrs. James Simmons.

The members of the Bethany Woman's Club will hear a talk on, "Social Security", next Tuesday afternoon when they meet at 1:30 o'clock in Fellowship Hall of the Bethany Christian Church.

Mrs. W. E. Woodworth will be the speaker, and the program will include songs by the PTA Mothersingers.

Soroptimist Club Activities

Members of the Soroptimist Club of Lincoln have been active in recent weeks in the organization's service and philanthropic projects, and currently are planning the annual Youth Citizenship Award program under the chairmanship of Mrs. Kathleen Culver.

Mrs. Culver has announced that the annual Youth Recognition dinner will be held in March, and chosen as judges for the program's essay competition are Mrs. Bess M. Jenkins, James E. Geist and Dr. S. Eugene Gascay.

Last Saturday, club members toured the new Villa Marie school near Waverly, under the direction of the club's public relations committee of which Mrs. C. M. Stewart is chairman. The committee recently has made a study of facilities for and training of the mentally retarded child.

On Monday evening, Mrs. Ernest Ruhter, club president, accepted a certificate of recognition for the club from the USO. Under the chairmanship of Dr. Ellen Moorhead Ball, the club regulariy assists the USO, supports Indian welfare through the City Mission, and has contributed gifts to the Beatrice State Home.

Mrs. Margaret Davis, chairman, and members of the extension and education committee have given assistance to the new Soroptimist Club of Columbus, and will attend the dinner and meeting of the Beatrice Club on Monday, Feb. 17.

Club projects also include support to UNESCO and UNICEF through its international goodwill committee, of which Mrs. Oliver T. Joy is chairman. The club annually contributes to Radio Free Europe, and supports international fellowships and grants through the American Soroptimist Foundation.

Dear Abby

No Psychology—Just Consideration

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Our only child, who lives 2,000 miles away, is expecting her first child this summer. Today we received a letter from our daughter telling us that she had lined up a nurse for the first three months, and that her mother should not plan on flying out for the birth of the baby, but to wait until three or four months after. We were shocked and hurt as we have always had a perfect relationship with our daughter, and we love her husband as we would a son. My wife is ashamed to tell our friends that she was asked to stay away for three or four months. Can you explain the psychological reason behind our daughter's rejection of her mother at this time?

HURT

DEAR HURT: Why assume that there is a "psychological reason" behind your daughter's decision, and that it is a "rejection" of her mother? Perhaps your daughter does not want to burden her mother with the hard work of caring for a newborn baby, but prefers that she come after the baby has grown a little so that she can fully enjoy her visit.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I were both born in France, but are now American citizens. We have a three-year-old daughter, and we are teaching her to speak French by speaking it in our home. Thus far she is speaking French as well as she does English. We felt this would be an advantage to her later on, but many of our friends have planted some doubts in our minds. They say that when she starts to learn English in school she will have a difficult time because she will confuse it with French. Could you please advise us of the validity of this viewpoint?

MRS. D.

DEAR MRS. D.: Children learn languages very easily. It is an advantage for youngsters to learn a second language while growing up, so don't be concerned about "confusing" your daughter by speaking English, too, for obvious reasons.

A Touch Of Glamour

Filling the center of this handsome cake is a mound of walnuts, raisins and maraschino cherries. Lending flavor and color contrast to these is a border of creamy, mellow banana slices. You'll find bananas between the layers, too, in this version of an ever-popular cake.

BANANA BALTIMORE CAKE

(Makes 8-inch layer cake)

- 1 package (1 pound, 2½ ounces) white cake mix
- 1 package (6½ ounces) fluffy white frosting mix
- 4 medium bananas, all yellow
- ¼ cup chopped walnuts
- ¼ cup raisins
- 2 tablespoons chopped red maraschino cherries

Lemon juice

Prepare two 8-inch cake layers according to package directions. Cool. Make frosting as package directs, Mix together ½ cup of the frosting, 2 bananas, diced, and half of each; walnuts, raisins and cherries. Spread between cake layers. Frost sides and top of cake with remaining frosting. Sprinkle top with rest of nuts, raisins and cherries. Slice remaining bananas; brush with lemon juice. Arrange on top of cake.

SAUSAGE MACARONI AND CHEESE

Here's a quickie main dish for one of those extra busy days. Put canned macaroni with cheese sauce in individual casseroles or a baking dish. Top with drained canned cocktail sausage or stuffed olives. Bake in a hot oven until heated through.

For The Recipe Files

Who says custard is only for children and family meals! This one is a sophisticated goodie that can be offered pridefully to guests any time. And to the family, too, of course.

SPICED APPLE-CUSTARD BRULEE

- ½ cup brown sugar
- 2 cups canned apple sauce
- Dash salt
- 1 tablespoon butter
- ¼ cup water
- 4 eggs
- ⅓ cup granulated sugar
- 1 tablespoon flour
- 1 package (3 ounce) cream cheese
- 2 cups milk
- ⅛ teaspoon nutmeg or cinnamon
- ¼ cup light brown sugar

In a saucepan mix brown sugar, apple sauce, salt, butter and water. Cook and stir over moderate heat until mixture is blended and sugar melted. Pour into a greased 2-quart casserole or baking dish; chill while preparing remainder of recipe. Using an electric mixer if available, beat eggs until fluffy. Beat in mixed sugar and flour, and soft cream cheese; continue to beat until mixture is thick and light. Beat in milk and spice. Strain mixture into a bowl or pitcher, then carefully pour over chilled apple sauce layer in baking dish. Place dish in a baking pan and add hot water to about ½" from top of filled casserole. Bake in a slow oven, 325 degrees, 1 hour, or until a knife inserted in center comes out clean. Chill and then sieve light brown sugar directly over top of dessert, making sugar layer as even as possible. Broil about 3 to 4 inches from heat, until sugar bubbles and melts—this takes only a minute or two. Serve at once while sugar layer is still soft and syrupy; or chill again and serve with a crackling sugar glaze. Makes 6-8 servings.

UPSIDE DOWN BREAD PUDDING

An unusual, flavorful bread pudding with caramel-like topping.

- ⅓ cup sugar
- 8 slices white bread
- 2 cups milk
- ⅛ teaspoon salt
- ½ cup sugar
- 1 tablespoon melted butter
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 2 eggs, well beaten
- ½ cup chopped dried figs
- ¼ cup slivered almonds

In small skillet over low heat, melt ⅓ cup sugar until it forms caramel-like syrup, stirring constantly. Pour into greased loaf pan, tipping slightly to coat sides. Break bread into mixing bowl. Pour milk over; add salt, ½ cup sugar, butter, vanilla and eggs. Blend until well mixed. Stir in California Dried Figs. Spoon into loaf pan that has been coated with caramelized sugar. Sprinkle with almonds. Bake at 350 F. for 45 minutes. Turn upside down on platter immediately. Serve hot or cold, plain or with custard sauce. Makes 6 servings.

BANANAS AMANDINE

(Makes 4 servings)

- ¼ cup slivered almonds
- ¼ cup butter
- 2 teaspoons lemon juice
- 4 large bananas, green-tipped, cut into 1-inch diagonal slices

Parsley flakes

Cook and stir almonds in butter until lightly browned. Mix in lemon juice. Pour over bananas in baking dish. Bake in 350 (moderate) oven 15 minutes or until tender, basting once. Sprinkle with parsley flakes. Serve as a vegetable with poultry or chops, as desired.

Here is a hearty salad featuring old-fashioned hot slaw and crumbled, crisp bacon. It makes an excellent side-dish during the cool months.

This skillet salad is in the Pennsylvania Dutch tradition, meaning it is both ample and delicious. It also is easy to prepare. Try it.

SKILLET SALAD

- 4 slices bacon
- ¼ cup vinegar
- 1 tablespoon finely chopped onion
- 1 tablespoon brown sugar
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 4 cups (½ medium head) shredded cabbage
- ½ cup chopped parsley

Fry bacon until crisp; remove from skillet and crumble. Add vinegar, chopped onion, brown sugar, and salt to fat in skillet. Add crumbled bacon. Heat thoroughly. Take from range and toss cabbage and parsley in hot dressing. Yield: 6 servings.

Delicious!

This cookie recipe is one that you will use time and time again—the cookies are that good. Try it.

ANISE COOKIES, ITALIAN

- 2 teaspoons anise seed
- ½ cup butter or margarine
- ¾ cup sugar
- 2 large eggs
- 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
- 1½ teaspoons double-acting baking powder
- ¼ teaspoon salt

Crush anise seed and mix with shortening. Gradually blend in sugar. Beat in eggs. Sift flour with baking powder and salt. Gradually stir into the first mixture. Mix dough until ingredients are well blended and smooth. Shape into 1-inch balls. Place on a lightly greased cooky sheet, 2 inches apart. Bake in a preheated moderate oven (350° F.) 10 minutes or until light brown. Cool on wire cooling racks. Store airtight.

YIELD: 4 dozen.

New—On The Grocery Shelf

Two new convenience sauce mixes—Cheese Sauce Mix and Sour Cream Sauce Mix—are being introduced to shoppers. Both require only the addition of milk and a minimum of preparation.

The sour cream sauce mix must be beaten for approximately one minute; the Cheese Sauce Mix needs to be simmered for about the same length of time.

The Cheese Sauce Mix is recommended particularly for macaroni and cheese, cheese souffles, and for serving over such dishes as broccoli, cauliflower, baked potatoes, and salmon loaf, or in preparing casseroles.

Baked potatoes, fish, tomatoes, beets, and cucumbers are especially enhanced by the new Sour Cream Sauce Mix, which is ideally suited for use in any main dish where sour cream is indicated. It also is excellent for use as a dip.

Candy Favorite

Here is a very excellent recipe for almost everyone's candy favorite—penuche—Please note that the candy should be made only on a dry day—Unless things change in Nebraska, any day will do.

Penuche is a regular fudge made with brown sugar. Brown sugar fudge has a creamy texture and is a pleasant variation of the standard fudge.

PENUCHE

HINT: Candy should only be made on a dry day.

- 3 cups brown sugar
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 1 cup milk or cream
- 1-2 tablespoons butter
- 1 cup nut meats (optional)
- 1 teaspoon vanilla

Dissolve sugar, salt and cream in large, heavy saucepan and stir constantly until boiling. Cover and cook about 3 minutes so steam can wash down any crystals formed on side of pan. Uncover and cook slowly without stirring to soft ball stage (238 degrees). Remove from heat and add butter. Cool to 110 degrees.

Place candy in mixer bowl and beat about 5 minutes. Start on slowest speed, gradually working up to highest. Beat until smooth and creamy. Add vanilla and nuts. Place in buttered pan and chill. Cut into squares.

'Mardi Gras' At Home

Every good cook realizes that food should appeal to the eye as well as to the taste—provided, of course, that the taste matches the 'pretty' that is to be served.

In the following recipe the eye and the taste are well satisfied.

RICE MARDI GRAS

Curried Pressed Ham:

- 1½ pounds pressed ham, unsliced
- 1 large onion, chopped
- ¼ pound butter
- 2 tablespoons curry powder, or less
- 1 cup sliced mushrooms
- 4 tablespoons flour
- 2 cups milk
- 1 cup light cream
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon monosodium glutamate
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- 1 teaspoon sugar
- 2 tablespoons sherry
- 4 slices pressed ham cut into julienne strips

RICE RING:

- 4 cups cooked rice (1½ cups uncooked rice)
- ½ cup chopped green peppers, sauteed
- ½ cup diced pimientos

Chunk butter

1. Cut pressed ham into ½-inch cubes. Saute onions in butter and then add curry powder and mushrooms. Simmer 2 minutes then stir in flour and cook another few minutes. Add milk, cream, salt, monosodium glutamate, pepper and sugar. Stir until thickened.

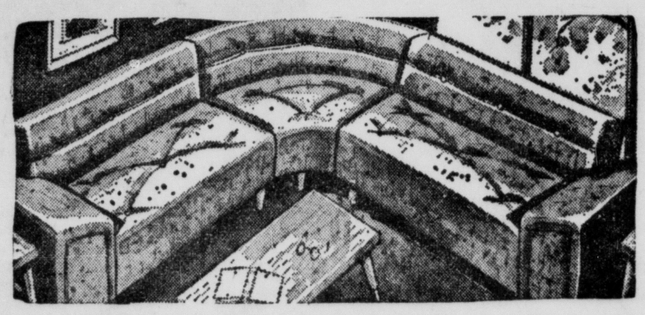

2. Prepare rice ring in advance of curried pressed ham and keep warm in the oven until ready to unmold. Combine cooked rice, sauteed peppers and pimientos. Coat mold well with softened butter and then press rice mixture into it.

3. When ready to serve unmold rice onto serving plate. Stir sherry into curried pressed ham and fill center of rice mold. Garnish with strips of ham and add a sprig of parsley for color.

Serve with a green salad to 6.

No Ruling In Sight On 27-Year-Old Appeal

More than a quarter century ago a Gering, Neb., man appealed to the Nebraska Supreme Court a district court ruling against him.

Now, 27 years later, that appeal is still pending with no indication it ever will be settled.

George Turner, clerk of the court, said Le Roy J. Cross filed the appeal. He sought to have the court rule that he was being unlawfully and forcibly detained by B. B. Grove from entry to property he allegedly owned.

The Scotts Bluff County District Court in April, 1937, found Grove innocent of the charge.

Cross had contended he was the owner and was entitled to immediate possession of the old Riviera Theater in Gering.

The county court ruled in favor of Cross and for restitution of the premises. But on appeal by Grove, the district court reversed this decision.

Cross' subsequent appeal went through the usual channels to the Supreme Court. Both sides filed their briefs as prescribed.

But during the appeal Grove died. Then the problems started.

Unlike most cases, Turner said, no one took up the action on Grove's behalf after his death. The Supreme Court could take no action while there was no second party represented.

Thus, the briefs in the case continue to gather dust in Turner's office. They are turning yellow with age. Apparently nothing can be done about it.

DID YOU KNOW THIS? IT'S A FACT:

Kenya, the British East African colony set for independence December 1963, was named after its glacier-topped Mount Kenya. "Kenya" comes from the Bantu word "Kilinyaa," which means the "white mountain."

Here is a practical little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures gives you. OLD-TIMERS GIVE KIDS 'GOLD' LESSON

...Norway's Johannesen, Swede Jernberg Shine

Innsbruck, Austria (UPI)—A couple of tireless old-timers, speedskater Knut Johannesen of Norway and skier Sixten Jernberg of Sweden, taught the youngsters a gold medal lesson in the Winter Olympics Wednesday while Russia gained its eighth victory and the United States trailed in bobsledding.

The Soviet team now has 21 medals—tying its team output in the entire 1960 Winter Olympics at Squaw Valley, Calif.

Johannesen, 31, and Jernberg, a living legend in skiing who will be 35 Thursday, both were supposed to be over the hill at winning long-distance races.

But Wednesday it was Johannesen who led the way to a 1-2-3 Norwegian sweep of the Men's 5,000 meter speedskating in Olympic record time of 7:34.8 and forced defending champion Victor Kosichkin of Russia to settle for fourth place although he, too, broke the old record.

Swedes Finish 1-2

And Jernberg, coming back in the same race he won eight years ago, led a 1-2 Swedish finish in the 50-kilometer (31-mile) cross-country ski race, the longest of all Olympic races in any sport, and then announced he will retire from competition this year.

In other developments:

—Victor Emery of Montreal boomed Canadian hopes for the first maple leaf gold medal by seizing the halfway lead in the four-man bobsled with the help of a course-record race in the first heat. The United States stayed in the hot fight for a medal as Bill Hickey of Keene, N.Y., steered one sled into fifth place and Larry McKillip of Saranac Lake, N.Y., piloted the other into seventh in a tight race.

—Russia clung to a slender lead in hockey by crushing Germany, 10-0, after Canada whipped Finland, 6-2. Each has a 5-0 record, but the Soviets have a better goals-per-game average.

—Czechoslovakia ended any hopes for an American medal in hockey as the Czechs humbled the U.S. team, 7-1. It was the Yanks' fourth defeat in five championship round games and dropped them into a fifth place tie with Finland.

Yanks In Mishap

—Austria finished 1-2 in the men's two-man tobogganing, as a U.S. sled ridden by Ronnie Walters of Garden Grove, Calif., and Jim Higgins of San Gabriel, Calif., sailed off an ice wall in a spectacular crash. Higgins was knocked out, but neither Yank was hurt seriously.

—Claudia Boyarskikh, a 24-year-old Siberian schoolteacher, became a double gold medal winner for Russia, adding the five-kilometer cross-country title to the 10-kilometer she won Saturday.

—The Soviet Union also gained a third place in the women's ski race to run its overall total of medals to 21. Norway has 10, but only two gold medals.

As expected, the U.S. team did not add to its total of three medals during the day. The Yanks were outclassed in both of the distance races, the best being 28th by Larry Damon of Burlington, Vt., in the 50-kilometer ski and 20th by Dick Hunt of La Crescenta, Calif., in the 5,000 meter speedskating.

Tobogganers Last

The only U.S. sled to finish in tobogganing, ridden by Ray Fales of Royal Oak, Mich., and Nicholas Mastromatteo of Santa Maria, Calif., was last in a 13-team field. There were no U.S. entries in the women's ski race.

Any hopes the Yanks may have had of another surprise in speedskating like the gold medal triumph of Terry McDermott of Essexville, Mich., in the 500 meters Tuesday died quickly.

Johannesen, a gold medal winner at 10,000 meters in 1960, whipped over the 5,000 meters in 7:38.4, almost 10 seconds under the old mark of 7:48.7 set in 1956 by Russia's Boris Shilkov.

Completing the clean sweep, which started jubilant Norwegians celebrating that they are again kings of long-distance skating, were Per Ivar Moe in 7:38.6 and Fred Anton Maier in 7:42.0. The time for Johannesen, a carpenter from Oslo, was the best of his career.

Jernberg's gold medal was the third of his career and he admitted, "this is the tops —I never expected this."

Outraces Haemaelaeinen

The Swedish auto salesman, who won the 30-kilometer gold medal in 1960 as well as the 50-kilometer in 1956, won by whipping the 1960 champion at the longer distance, Kalevi Haemaelaeinen of Finland. The Finn led for 35 kilometers with Jernberg second, then so completely collapsed that he drifted back to 16th place.

Jernberg's time, for a race five miles longer than the Olympic marathon, was 2:43:-52.6, seven minutes faster than his winning time in 1956. Assar Roennlund took second for Sweden about one minute behind, and Art Tiainen of Finland was third.

Canadian Emery blasted his light-blue four-man bobsled down the twisting ice chute in 1:02.99 to break the course record. The course slowed up for the second as the weather warmed and he clocked 1:03.82 for a total of 2:06.81.

That gave the 30-year-old Montreal salesman a lead of .69 of a second over the Italian sled of Eugenio (Red Top) Monti at 2:07.50. Right behind was the Austrian sled of Erwin Thaler in 2:07.61 and the German sled of Franz Schelle in 2:07.71.

Hickey rode down the first heat in 1:03.90, then came back in what he called a "lousy" 1:04.11 for 2:08.01. It left him only .51 of a second behind second-place Monti.

McDermott May Skate In Norway

Innsbruck, Austria (AP)—Terry McDermott, America's only gold medalist at the Winter Olympics so far, said Wednesday he is thinking over an invitation to visit Norway next week to appear in two speedskating meets.

"I haven't made up my mind yet. I want to talk to my wife first."

He said "I've got a job to do and if you don't work, you don't get paid."

A barber from Essexville, Mich., McDermott has said he plans to be back cutting hair by next Monday at the latest.

"It's something I'll have to think over carefully and I probably won't decide before the end of the week," he said.

Creighton's Comeback Attempt Misses By One; Memphis State Wins, 87-86

. . . BLUEJAYS' HOME VICTORY STRING ENDS

By HAL BROWN
Star Sports Writer

Omaha — A gallant comeback bid by Creighton fell one point short here Wednesday night as Memphis State handed the Bluejays an 87-86 defeat for Creighton's first home loss in 12 starts.

The Bluejays ran into a hot-handed Memphis quintet and had to play catch-up from the opening moments.

Bluejay Surge

Elton McGriff and Chuck Officer led the Bluejay surge that nearly wiped out the huge deficit in the next 11 minutes.

With Paul Silas bottled up, the Bluejays turned to the outside shooting of Officer and close-in work by McGriff in the comeback attempt.

The Bluejays still trailed by five with only seven seconds left, but a long jump shot by Officer and a tip-in by Silas narrowed it to the final one-point margin.

Memphis State, whose main claim to fame was an upset win over nationally ranked Loyola of Chicago earlier this year, was led by the shooting of Bob Neumann with 19 and George Kirk with 18.

Officer's 21 paced Creighton while McGriff added 16. Silas' 14 points and 15 rebounds were well below his season averages of 20 points and 22 rebounds.

The loss leaves Creighton with a 16-5 record and gives Memphis State an 11-8 mark.

Creighton led only once, and that on the opening bucket by Officer, before Memphis State raced to a 22-7 lead with 13:50 left in the first half. From that point it was Creighton's task to play the comeback role.

"Our guys really battled back, but we just couldn't seem to cut the margin when we needed to," Creighton coach Red McManus said.

The Bluejays have only one home game remaining, a revenge tilt with Oklahoma City here Feb. 17.

Oklahoma City handed Creighton one of its four road losses.

Slick Chute Dangerous

. . . U.S. TOBOGGANERS FLIPPED

Innsbruck, Austria (AP)—The army was out on the bobsled slopes, and the bobsledders were up in arms Wednesday after charges that Olympic officials were endangering the lives of the racers by ordering the four-man championships continued.

"It's bloody crazy," said Britain's Tony Nash, gold medal winner in the two-man events. "The chute is very dangerous and it's difficult to stay on the course."

"All of us took a chance making the second run," said Canadian driver Vic Emery, whose sled had the best time after the first two descents. "There's a nasty-looking crack at the 12th of the 14th curves. If we had hit that it might have been the last time we would hit anything.

"I think the organizers should give greater care to the safety of contestants."

Thawed Chute

The organizers' problems center around the puffs of warm wind that have thawed the icy chute, causing cracks in the restraining walls and a general deterioration of the course. The even already has been set back because of bad weather conditions.

"The head of the bobsled committee, Prof. Walter Nachtschatt, said, "If we had not staged both runs, we might not have been able to stage them at all. Only a cold wave can help us now."

With only the ever-present thawing winds forecasted, army details were called out for all-night repair work, and immediately began to patch up the deep ruts and pits in the icy chute with fresh snow. They were being hampered by a light drizzle.

American Mishap

While the bobsledders shot down the chute without accident—many said they hit the restraining walls at times—an American two-man tobaggan team flipped and pitched its riders into the air.

The sled, manned by Jim Higgins of San Gabriel, Calif., and Ron Walters of Garden Grove, Calif., leaped off the track at Igls, where a British tobogganer had been killed 10 days ago. Higgins landed on his back and lay motionless.

"I'm a very lucky man," he admitted after recovering from the initial shock. Ashen-faced, and puffing hard on a cigarette, he said:

"When I finally came to a stop I could feel nothing from my hips downward and said to myself, 'Oh, that's my back gone.' Feeling, however, began to return and I was helped to my feet by our team doctor, who was nearby."

Walters, who walked away without any injury, said, "I was trying to get over this baby, the Olympic curve, but the sled started going up and I couldn't get it under control. It just continued to go up. I couldn't bring it down again."

Vaulter Pennel Hurt

Fort Worth, Tex. (AP) — John Pennel, the world's only 17-foot pole vaulter, withdrew from the Will Rogers Indoor Games Wednesday because of a hairline fracture in his left foot.

Cowboys' Coach Inks 11-Year Pact

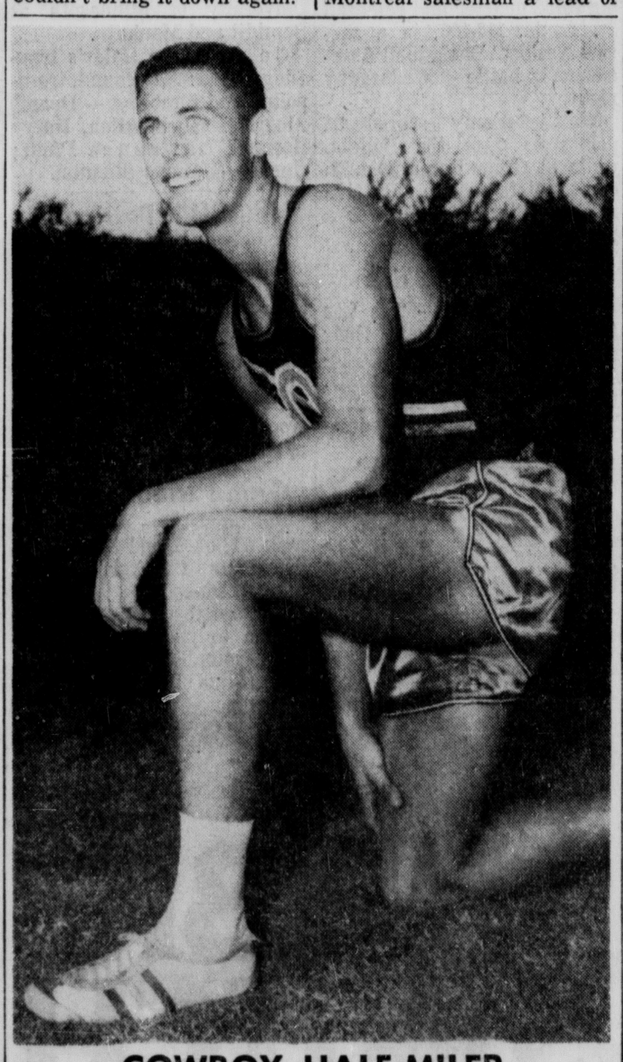

Dallas (AP) — Tom Landry, coach of the Dallas Cowboys of the National Football League, signed a contract Wednesday giving him 11 more years with the club.

Cowboy officials said they believe it is the longest contract in professional sports.

Money involved was not disclosed, but general manager Tex Schramm said Landry received a pay hike.

CITY SITES SHIFTED

Two changes in the city basketball schedule for Feb. 14 have been announced. The Southeast-Pius X game originally set for Johnson Gym that night will be moved to Pershing Auditorium. The Beatrice-Northeast game, originally set for the Northeast gym, will be moved to Johnson Gym.

COWBOY HALF-MILER

Oklahoma State's Tom Von Ruden brings a top clocking of 1:51.6 for the 880 to Lincoln Saturday when the Cowboys meet Nebraska in a dual indoor track meet at the Huskers East Stadium plant. Field events get under way at 2 p.m. with the running events slated to start at 2:30.

Okie Clubs Will Invade Husker Fort

Nebraska's rejuventated Cornhuskers — perhaps the surprise battlers of the Big 8 Conference with a 2-3 cage record—face a severe challenge from the state of Oklahoma this weekend.

Saturday night (8:05 p.m.) the Oklahoma Sooners move into the Coliseum to demonstrate their go-go offense introduced last year by coach Bob Stevens. On Monday the Huskers must tackle the front-running Oklahoma State Cowboys, coached by the wily veteran, Henry Iba.

Coach Joe Cipriano's Huskers, who scared the fangs off the Kansas State Wildcats before slipping 73-66 in overtime, won't be at full strength for either scrap.

Joel Kortus, junior starter from Lincoln, suffered a knee injury early in the K-State game, and very likely will be on the shelf for some time. Jim Yates, 6-8 veteran frontliner, will wind up his college eligibility against the Sooners, Saturday night, final game of the first semester.

So Cipriano will have considerable juggling to do for both games. Charlie Jones, the veteran jumping jack who dumped in 23 points and wowed the Coliseum crowd by snagging nine sky-scraping rebounds, will move into the starting lineup for Kortus.

It is likely that the Husker starting quintet for both games will include Jones and Jerry Spears, forwards; Bob Antulov, center; Grant Simmons and Harold Cebrun, guards.

There will be a freshman intrasquad game, starting at 5:45 p.m., prior to the Oklahoma game. Norfolk Junior College will tackle the unbeaten Cornhusker yearlings prior to the OSU contest Monday night.

Mayor Says KC Will Stand Firm

Kansas City (AP)—Mayor Ilus W. Davis indicated Wednesday Kansas City will stand firm in its demand for a minimum four-year lease to the Kansas City Athletics for use of Municipal Stadium when negotiations are re-opened Thursday with baseball owner Charles O. Finley.

Finley will meet with city officials Thursday morning for the sixth time in recent weeks in an effort to compromise his differences over stadium rental. He is under American League orders to complete lease arrangements by Feb. 15.

In previous sessions Finley has held out for a two-year lease but there are reports he will offer a three-year lease now.

State Marshes Sought For Waterfowl Usage

Minneapolis (UPI)—Lands are now being purchased for wildlife in "rainwater basin" counties of Nebraska by the Department of the Interior, it was announced Wednesday.

Regional director R. W. Burwell, Minneapolis, of the department's bureau of sport fisheries and wildlife, said purchases will consist primarily of marshes which have value as duck production areas.

These areas will be open to public hunting, Burwell added.

The new waterfowl production area program was started by the bureau in the "rainwater basin" in the fall of 1962. Primary objective of the program is to conserve existing waterfowl habitat. Through systematic purchase of selected waterfowl brood areas followed by proper management for wildlife production, these areas will be improved for waterfowl use.

In order to insure that remaining habitat will be protected, Burwell said the purchase program will first concentrate on lagoon and marsh areas with the highest waterfowl potential in a nine-county area. The counties are Adams, Clay, Fillmore, York, Saline, Seward, Gosper, Phelps and Kearney counties.

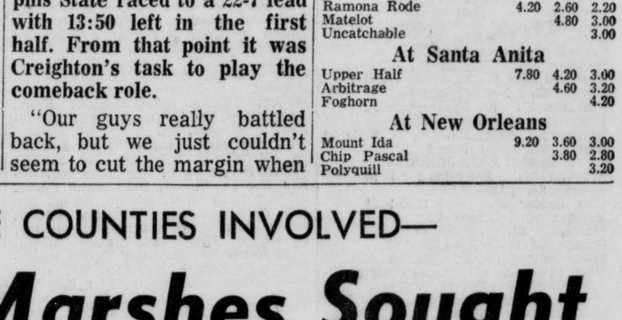

All purchases will be based on a willing buyer-willing seller relationship, the bureau's regional director said. Purchases have already been made in Clay, Fillmore, York, Gosper, Phelps and Kearney counties.

Marsh basins with a sufficient border strip to insure nesting areas will be acquired. Native grasses will be planted in the area immediately surrounding the basin to prevent siltation which spoils the marshes for waterfowl.

Tracts acquired under this program will be open to public hunting during the regularly-scheduled seasons except under unusual conditions where temporary closure may be necessary.

The tracts will be purchased with duck stamp monies, Burwell said. Under existing legislation, 25 per cent of all revenues from such tracts is returned to the county and is earmarked for school and road purposes.

Persons owning wetlands which may be suitable for acquisition by the bureau under this program are invited to contact the Hastings office staff, Burwell said.

Big Three Ready For Phoenix Open

. . . PLAYER BACK IN U.S.

Phoenix, Aris. (AP)— Jerry Steelsmith, a lanky redhead from Glendale, Calif., shot an eight-under-par 63 Wednesday to win the pro-amateur prelude of the $50,000 Phoenix Open golf tournament and grab the attention from the "big three."

The 28-year-old fired six birdies and one eagle, missed only one green and needed only 28 putts to equal the Phoenix Country Club course record. It was a tremendous showing for a golfer who hasn't finished in the money in two previous Phoenix Open tries.

Meanwhile, South Africa's Gary Player joined the touring pros for the first time in 1964 and shot a creditable 68. Arnold Palmer had 72, including a two-stroke penalty, and Jack Nicklaus 75 to round out the big three scoring.

On Thursday, Palmer opens his bid for a fourth straight Phoenix Open title. He beat Player by a stroke last year.

Player was welcomed by his fellow pros, including little Jerry Barber who quipped, "I hoped . . . I mean I thought we'd lost you."

"I've been active in tournaments in South Africa and won the Australian Open," Player said when asked if he'd been resting.

"I didn't have any rest at all," he said, "I've been active all the time."

Golfers Want TV Control

Phoenix, Ariz. (AP) — Jay Hebert, chairman of the PGA tournament committee, said Wednesday golfers want to control television rights on tournaments so the media does not destroy golf.

Hebert said he thinks the PGA can effect better control of programming of tournament television and also increase revenues to sponsors as well as the golfers.

The PGA and sponsors of the current Phoenix Open clashed on television policy and the disagreement nearly caused cancellation of the $50,000 event.

Such action was averted when contracts finally were signed late Tuesday.

Replying to criticism by Larry Crosby on the PGA television stand, Hebert said:

"I've been playing in the Bing Crosby 14 years and I don't know of any tournament in which a golfer takes such a beating. I think the boys have been doing Bing a big favor by playing there."

Unusual Efforts By 2 Bowlers

Daryl Martin, bowling for the East Hills team in the Cornhusker league, racked up 10 consecutive strikes and finished with a 288 at Plaza.

Earl Buettgenbach, who is handicapped by the lack of a thumb on his bowling hand, bettered his average by 108 pins when he rolled a 656 series at Northeast Lanes. A 275 game was included in the series, tossed for the Ben Franklin team in the Havelock Merchants league.

Kubek Sees No Ill Effects From Yanks' Series Defeat

. . . TONY SIGNS '64 CONTRACT

New York (AP)—Tony Kubek is one New York Yankee who expects no serious effects from last fall's four-straight beating by the Los Angeles Dodgers in the World Series.

"Of course, you can't forget it," said Kubek over the phone from Wausau, Wis., on a special hookup to the Yanks' office after his 1964 signing had been announced. "I have been reading all winter about how embarrassed we were. That is absurd. We just met a hot ball club with good pitching.

"We never went into any season thinking we had it made and I am sure we won't this time. You can't afford to let things like that worry you."

Kubek

Kubek reportedly signed for about $38,000, a slight increase over last year's pay despite a 57-point batting slump to .257. The shortstop reported he was very satisfied and had signed the first contract offer by Ralph Houk, the new general manager.

What was his reaction to the promotion of Yogi Berra to manager?

"I was out on the lake duck hunting when my wife called me to the phone," said Kubek. "A local sportscaster told me the news and I asked him 'are you kidding?! I thought he would get it eventually but I didn't think Ralph would step down so soon."

Would Yogi be different as a manager?

"I think he's the type of guy who will be more serious as a manager than he was as a player. Sure, the guys used to kid him a lot. But that title of manager automatically brings with it more respect. Gee, I don't know if he'll be able to go out to eat with us any more."

And how did he react to Whitey Ford as pitching coach.?

"Last year when I would go out to eat with Yogi he'd keep asking how I thought Whitey would do as a coach. I never thought much about it because I didn't think about Yogi becoming manager. Whitey is a dedicated man and I think he will be just as effective as a pitcher-coach as he was as a pitcher."

Cyclones Second In Track Meet

Des Moines (UPI) — Host Drake University whipped Iowa State and South Dakota here Wednesday night in a triangular track meet which produced 11 meet records and one field house record.

The Bulidogs, in their first outing this season, notched a total of 80 points. Iowa State scored 57 and South Dakota 14 points.

Norm Johnstone, Iowa State, was the meet's only dual winner, setting new records in both the 50 yard high and low hurdles.

$100 Cage Fine For Jungle Jim

New York (AP) —President Walter Kennedy of the National Basketball Association fined Jim Loscutoff of the Boston Celtics $100 Wednesday as a result of Loscutoff's ejection from Tuesday night's game against St. Louis at Madison Square Garden.

Referee Mendy Rudolph ordered Loscutoff out of the game for using profanity That cost the player $50. The additional $50 fine was for invading the officials' dressing room to continue the debate with Rudolph.

Kennedy said that under ordinary circumstances the fine for barging into the dressing room would be much more severe but that he had taken into consideration Rudolph's report that Loscutoff had apologized to him later.

Heavy Schedule For Swimmers

Coach Dick Klaas' Nebraska swimming team has a full schedule this week. Here's the slate:

Thursday, Feb. 6 —NU Varsity hosts Macalester College of St. Paul, Minn., runnerup team in the NAIA meet last year, at the Coliseum pool. Splash time is 1:00 p.m.

Friday, Feb. 7 —The Huskers entertain the University of Wyoming in a 4:00 p.m., dual. NU is looking for revenge after two straight defeats from the Cowboys.

Saturday, Feb. 8 —Nebraska travels to Ames, Ia., to meet Iowa State and Air Force in a double dual meet.

And while the Varsity is at Ames, the NU Freshmen team will meet Emporia State of Kansas in a 2:00 p.m. dual.

"We're going back to work, following exams, in rather a big way," coach Klaas noted. "We'll need a complete team effort to win three meets in three days."

NU's Gymnasts Slate 2 Meets

Nebraska's gymnastics team will take a five-man squad to Minnesota Friday for a two-meet test.

Friday the gym team meets Mankato in a dual, then moves to Minneapolis Saturday for a triangular with the University of Minnesota at Bemidji and Mankato.

Coach Jake Geier's traveling squad: All-around, trampoline and tumbling — Dennis Albers, Francis Allen, Harry Howard, Lawrence Pfeiff; rings —Thomas Sitzman.

Blue Hill Pairings

Blue Hill — Pairings have been set for the Class C district tourney to be played here Feb. 24, 25, 27 and 28. Davenport meets Blue Hill and Deshler meets Franklin in Monday play. Tuesday action sends Nelson against Wood River and Red Cloud against Harvard.

Grand Islander Wins

Fairbury (AP) — Eldo Stockman, 71, of Grand Island won the State Checker Tournament Wednesday.

He won three, lost one and played to two draws in the final round match against Ray Atkins of St. Libory.

—FOUR-MAN PATTERNS REQUIRED METHOD OF PLAY—

Long Winter Predicted For Walton's 'Iron Five'

By GENE BUDIG
Outstate Nebraska Bureau

Walton — Depth is no problem at Walton High School.

There is none.

"We only have six boys in school and five of them are out for basketball," explained a somewhat frustrated coach, Charles Rush.

The sixth, Gary Ossenkop, is student manager and doesn't care to play.

"I've threatened to suit him up several times," Rush admitted. "We need something to just finish games."

The locals frequently run patterns with only four players. "Somebody either fouls out or gets tired on me," the coach said.

Walton is winless in eleven outings and prospects are bright for a perfect record.

But the young coach, in his first season, consoles himself by saying, "We just might surprise somebody. The kids go out there thinking they can win . . . I don't know where they get it."

Last year, there was no team. Walton had only four boys enrolled in high school.

The depth situation won't improve too much next season. One player will graduate and one will enter high school.

"Guess we'll just break even," Rush noted.

The following years could be different, however, with a promising crop of nine junior high players coming up.

"These boys are winning right now. They have a five and one record," said Rush, who coaches them, too. "They keep my spirits up."

Members of the high school team are Dave Cleaver, Carl Doeden, Jerry Portis, Roy Ludemann and Ray Portis.

"They do have an undefeated spirit," the coach added.

Up with the chattering mynah birds this a.m. The butter is creamy on the new Kahala Hilton pancakes. The surf is creamy on Hilton's new beach.

The sea is as blue as a baby's eyes. The Hawaiian sun smiles gently on rich and poor alike — (but mostly on the poor who cannot afford beach umbrellas).

Is all well in Paradise of the Pacific? Not by a long shot, Claude.

☆ ☆ ☆

Along with Statehood to the lovely islands came all of man's problems of progress: New-fashioned muumuus; the 10-cent pay toilet; and, heaven help us, the Outrigger Club has moved off sandy Waikiki to make room for a skyscraper hotel.

This latter was a true blow to democracy. For the swank Outrigger Club was a sandy fortress of kamaaina sugar aristocracy and direct and pure descendants of the Hawaiian nobles, the alii of antique days.

Most of the Waikiki beach boys worked out of the Outrigger Club. They wore the blue trunks with the white-and-red paddle insignia, and were 100% Hawaiian.

Statehood has changed a number of things.

Non-whites (which is a way of saying island-born Japanese, Chinese, Filipino, Hawaiian mixed etc.) outnumber the haoles (whites) by a good long voting share.

Japanese are better than 32%, leading the haoles by a fraction.

Part Hawaiians are 14%; Filipinos, 10; Chinese, 6.

This puts a nice leverage on the State vote. And Honolulu papers are careful that the marriage of the Nakahuras gets the same space as the weddings of the sugar oldtimers family.

☆ ☆ ☆

Over the magic islands hangs the breathless hush of big money. Big money built the $11 mililion Kahala Hilton. Local money, true. But all the way out past Diamond Head? You could have had 10-to-1 against it 10 years ago.

Down on Maui island, the Sheraton-Maui is celebrating one year of successful operation of plush and expensive hotel in the outer islands.

Of the newest state's 650,000 people, 79% live in and around Honolulu—on the island of Oahu, smaller than Los Angeles.

It showed great faith when Sheraton built on Maui.

The sugar-loaded tourist had repaid it handsomely. And planes shuttle six or more times a day from the crowded sands of Waikiki to the long, lovely beach at Kannapali.

☆ ☆ ☆

On Hawaii island — The Big Island — Laurence Rockefeller is building a multi-million dollar resort to match his luxury resort operations in the Caribbean.

A hui of island-born Japanese and Chinese real estate men are selling lava rock lots on the Kona coast as fast as they can sub-divide.

Waikiki land at $65 a square foot is considered reasonable.

Resorts on the garden island of Kauai are running full in the off-season.

And all sorts of plans are blowing in the trade wind for the undeveloped islands of Lanai (pineapples) and Molokai (sugar cane).

☆ ☆ ☆

Honolulu and the suburbs are growing. The outer islands are losing residents.

Automation in pineapple and sugar cane displaced many workers. And the world-wide tendency to move into the cities works here as it does in Iowa or India or Spain.

There is a great deal of talk of licensing gambling. The Las Vegas (Nevada) Review-Journal group recently bought the Hilo newspaper—largest in the islands outside of Honolulu — and set off a flood of rumors.

Maui is about to vote on pari-mutuel betting at dog tracks.

☆ ☆ ☆

But most residents see a long way before Hawaii agrees to the green felt tables of craps and black jack and spinning roulette wheels. Church groups are as strong here as they are in the Deep South.

Meanwhile tourists increase at a comfortable 18% each sunny year. The problem with Paradise is it's getting a little overcrowded.

The Great Entertainer welcomes two hot favorites to the big time

Everybody knows 7 Crown tastes great cold (as in the four famous drinks on the left).

But some like it hot—and you'll know why when you taste either of these steaming mugs laced with America's favorite whiskey. Delicious after a bout with Jack Frost.

Both are easy to fix. And thanks to the Great Entertainer's special quality of taste both belong in the big time. Here's how! 7 Crown Hot Toddy: 2 oz. 7 Crown, 1 tsp. sugar, stir in mug. Add hot water. Garnish with cinnamon stick. 7 Crown Hot Grog: 2 oz. 7 Crown, 1 tsp. sugar, 1 tsp. lemon juice. Stir. Add hot water or tea. Both are delicious.

Safe-Cigarette Study OKd By House Group

Washington (UPI)—A House agriculture subcommittee Wednesday unanimously approved a resolution authorizing a multi-million dollar government-backed program designed to make sure that cigarettes are safe.

Sponsored by Rep. Harold D. Cooley, D-N.C., chairman of the full Agricultre Committee, the resolution would authorize a special study program on tobacco—its production, handling, and manufacture.

Cooley emphasized that he was not contradicting a public health service report which found cigarettes to be harmful.

He said, however, that "we need to clear up many things" because "nobody knows what it is, if anything, in tobacco that might be injurious to health."

Causative Factor

In a report issued last month, the Public Health Service labeled smoking a causative factor in lung cancer.

Cooley said it would take up to $10 million to get the research program operating on a crash basis. He said he expected the full Agriculture Committee to approve the resolution later this week for immediate House floor action.

Under the resolution, the secretary of agriculture would be directed to launch a special study program into the production, handling, manufacture and use of tobacco.

The job of the study panel would be "to ascertain and preserve the desireable quality factors and characteristics of tobacco products and eliminate therefrom factors, properties or substances which may be detrimental to health."

Field Stations

Under the program, the government also would be allowed to operate laboratories and field stations in the tobacco belt.

Cooley said research is the only way to clear up the controversy over cigarettes.

He said some people are using the Public Health Service report to condemn tobacco outright.

This, he said, was not a logical attitude since the study did not establish the causative factors in any association between tobacco and disease.

Bud Wilkinson Enters Race As Republican

Oklahoma City (AP)—Bud Wilkinson, the nation's winningest football coach, entered Oklahoma's U.S. Senate race Wednesday vowing to mold a new career in politics.

"I intend to win this race and keep on winning," said Wilkinson, a Republican. Asked if he is planning to remain in politics the rest of his life, he quickly replied: "Yes I am."

Wilkinson has systematically shed all ties with the sports world in the past month. He resigned after 17 seasons as University of Oklahoma football coach and athletic director and then quit as advisor to the National Council on Physical Fitness, a non-salaried job he received in 1961 from the late President John F. Kennedy.

"I am not a professional politician," Wilkinson said as he read from a prepared statement. "However, political office is not the private preserve or special responsibility of those who confine their lives to politics.

'Belongs To People'

"Government in our free land does not belong to politicians," said Wilkinson, who has never held a political office in traditionally Democratic Oklahoma. "It belongs to the people."

Leading Oklahoma Republicans have quietly urged Wilkinson to enter politics, reportedly believing the famed football coach is the GOP's best hope of capturing the Senate seat how held by Democrat J. Howard Edmondson.

Political observers rate Wilkinson an odds-on-favorite to win the Republican Senatorial nomination, but other announced GOP candidates vowed they are in the race to stay.

Wilkinson changed his voter registration from Democrat to Republican last week.

$20. Million Wheat Sale To Reds OKd

Washington (UPI) — The Commerce Department Wednesday authorized the sale of another $20 million worth of U.S. wheat to Russia as the administration stepped deeper into controversy over the deals.

Licenses also were granted for the sale of $2.2 million worth of wheat to Czechoslovakia and $1.6 million worth to East Germany. Such licenses merely permit American firms to negotiate for a sale and do not mean a deal has been closed.

The department's announcement followed by one day President Johnson's announced decision for the government's Export-Import Bank to guarantee private credits to Soviet-bloc purchasers of U.S. farm goods. He said such action would be in the national interest.

Cutback Of Excise Taxes Nixed In Senate

Washington (AP)—The Senate gave the administration a clean sweep on all key issues in the $11.6 billion tax cut bill by refusing Wednesay to repeal excise taxes on jewelry, handbags, cosmetics and furs.

And even on lesser issues, the administration's batting average was high as the Senate drove toward quick passage of this top priority legislation. However, there could be reverses in the final voting or in working out Senate and House differences in a conference committee.

The vote against a Republican effort to repeal the excise taxes was on a 48-45 hairline, with Democratic leaders scrambling for support. Many Democrats held back until the last minute to see if their votes were needed.

Nebraska Senators Hruska and Curtis voted with the minority.

Switched to 'No'

Two senators who originally announced "yes" votes, Vance R. Hartke, D-Ind., and Clair Engle, D-Calif., switched to "no" before the voting closed. Several other Democrats who had expressed sympathy for the repeal voted "no" the first time when it became clear their help was needed by the leadership.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana voted against the amendment but after the victory withdrew his vote and paired with absent Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen. The Illinois senator, in the hospital for treatment of an ulcer condition, has been the major sponsor of the repeal amendment. Mansfield's move enabled him to be listed for the proposal.

Lively Debate

There was some lively debate before the vote, with one backer, Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R.I., pleading "let's keep our women beautiful" by knocking out the tax on such items.

All 31 Republicans present voted for the amendment with help from 14 Democrats. The only southerner not among the 48 Democrats against it was Sen. Albert Gore of Tennessee.

The 10% excise taxes at the retail level were imposed in World War II and repeated efforts to repeal them in recent years have failed. It was estimated knocking them out would add $450 million or more to the $11.6 billion tax losses in the bill.

Twist Applied

President Johnson's role in the excise tax dispute entered in the sizzling debate just before the vote. Sen. Thruston B. Morton, R-Ky., who introduced the repealer, said the Senate Finance Committee had voted to repeal them on Jan. 23 but "the Texas twist was applied" during a luncheon recess and the committee reversed itself 9 to 8.

Dirksen had made the almost successful repeal effort in the committee and had planned to do so on the Senate floor. Morton acted on his behalf.

The House defeated similar efforts when it passed the tax cut bill with an understanding that its ways and means committee would hold hearings on separate excise repeal legislation later this session.

Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., floor manager for the tax reduction measure, called the excise repealer irresponsible. He said it would start a rush to toss out all federal excise taxes which bring the treasury some $10 billion or more annually.

'Out Of Trap'

Long agreed that Johnson had taken a personal hand in persuading the finance committee to backtrack. The President did so, Long said, because repeal "would open the floodgates," and as a result Democrats "got enough votes together to get themselves out of this trap."

Before the vote against repeal of the excise taxes, the Senate rejected, 71 to 23, an amendment by Sen. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill., aimed at giving more relief to low income families.

Douglas wanted to raise the minimum standard deduction—an alternative in the bill to the present flat deduction of 10% or less of gross income up to $1,000. The bill would allow a flat deduction of $300 for each taxpayer plus $100 for each of his other exemptions. Douglas wanted to raise the deduction to $400 for the taxpayer plus $200 for each dependent.

Nebraska Senators Hruska and Curtis voted with the majority.

Filipino Hero Dies 70 Years After Leading 2 Revolutions

Manila (AP)— Gen. Emilio Aguinaldo died Thursday nearly seven decades after he led barefoot Philippine peasants in war for independence, first against Spain and then the United States.

He was 94 and had been nearly blind and unable to walk.

Death came after a series of heart attacks at Veterans Memorial Hospital where Aguinaldo had spent most of the last four years. His 82-year-old wife Maria died at the same hospital last May.

Aguinaldo led the Filipino revolt against Spain in 1896 and fought a bloody rebellion against the United States after the Spanish-American war.

Removed Tie

When the Philippines received independence from the United States on July 4, 1946, he proudly marched down Manila's Dewey Boulevard and ceremoniously removed a black bow tie he had worn for almost half a century as a symbol of mourning for the republic he had founded in 1898.

Much of his time in recent years was devoted to helping the survivors of his campaign for independence. Solemn and owlish-eyed, he preserved his military bearing always. He usually wore starched white uniforms with high choker collars.

In 1896, armed only with bolo knives and a few shotguns, Aguinaldo's forces jolted the Philippines with the capture of a Spanish garrison at Binakayan. The rebels' success brought promises from the Spanish to reform their administration.

Offered money to leave the country, Aguinaldo accepted and went to Singapore, where he waited in vain for the reforms he had expected. His opportunity to strike again came with the outbreak of the Spanish-American War in 1898.

1963 Midwest Life Business Up 40%

Midwest Life Insurance Co. had a 40% increase in life policies over 1962, Chairman W. W. Putney told stockholders at their annual meeting Wednesday.

New life policies totaled $31,708,568. Life insurance in force at the end of the year totaled $171,395,038.

Health Premiums

New health premiums totaled $257,632 compared to $223,706 in 1962. A total of $741,160 was collected in health premiums during the year.

Four members of the board of directors whose terms expired, including W. W. Putney, Snell Wallace Putney, Ernest L. Smith and Eleanor E. Snell, were re-elected for three-year terms each.

Dr. E. B. Reed, Dr. Vance D. Rogers and Stanford Miller were added to the board of directors.

Other members of the board are Adna A. Dobson, H. C. Henderson, A. Leicester Hyde, J. R. Kinder, John K. Selleck, Vernon L. Thompson, and O. D. Trombla.

NEED IS SEEN FOR TOURISM COORDINATION

Nebraskans representing agencies and organizations with a stake in tourism met in Lincoln Wednesday under auspices of the Nebraska Broadcasters Association to discuss the need for coordinating tourist promotion efforts.

General conclusions:

—that there is duplication of tourist promotion effort.

—That a coordinating agency or effort is needed.

Chiefly mentioned as the agency to bring participating tourist promoters together was the NEBRASKAland Foundation, represented at the meeting by Stanley Matzke of Seward.

Matzke said the non-profit corporation has to this point been principally a "help-along organization," stepping in to raise money for special promotion projects when called upon to do so.

He said the foundation's future role is in "the developing stage" and promised to explore the possibility of a coordinating role for his group.

Harry Peck of KNOP-TV, North Platte, NBA board member who presided at Wednesday's luncheon, said NBA directors will discuss the coordination matter further at a meeting in Kearney Feb. 17.

Airport Authority Receives 3 Rug, Furniture Bids

The Lincoln Airport Authority received three bids Wednesday on furniture and carpeting for the new General Aviation Building and expanded Terminal Building at the Municipal Airport.

Exon Office Supply submitted a $14,397.74 bid compared with $15,817.65 proposed by Latsch Bros. Inc. Nebraska Typewriter Co. submitted a partial bid of $4,992.31 covering furniture only.

Executive Director Rolland Harr said a recommendation on the bids would be made Tuesday to the authority's board meeting.

Indians Plan Tour

Winnipeg (AP) — A group of Canadian and American Indians plans a lecture tour in the spring to tell about Indian culture. The expedition is a fund raising one.

Instant coffee today accounts for about 20% of all the coffee sold in the U.S., while instant tea has a 7.2% share of the tea market. Manufacturers of coffee and tea, in promoting all their brands to consumers, spent over $8 million nationally in newspaper advertising last year.

Rallies Add Zing To Stock Market

New York (AP) — Rallies by tobacco and savings-and-loan issues, along with a wide gyration by Du Pont, added a little zing to the stock market Wednesday—but, once again, it went nowhere.

As in several recent sessions, the over-all market was mixed. Trading was moderate.

In early trading the popular averages were boosted by Du Pont's spurt of 12¼ Amid Wall Street gossip that when directors meet Feb. 17 they might consider a dividend increase or stock split. After a spokesman for the company was quoted as saying that a stock split is not on the agenda of the meeting, the best gain melted away and Du Pont closed at 256, at a net rise of 3¼. It had made a high of 265.

Stocks of the savings-and-loan holding companies, meanwhile, embarked on an upsurge of their own, based on reports of firming interest rates for mortgages.

The tobaccos—both cigarette and cigar stocks this time—also rallied. This advance was attributed to Washington news that a House Agriculture subcommittee had approved a proposed government research program designed to identify and eliminate harmful substances in tobacco products.

Some of the drugs also were strong. Merck touching a new high as it gained 2¼ and Pfizer rising 1⅝, but the general stock list continued to be a confusion of plus and minus signs.

The Dow Jones industrial average, which had been up as much as 1.91 when Du Pont was at its best, closed with a net loss of .26 at 783.04.

Of 1,319 issues traded, losers, outnumbered gainers by 518 to 504. New highs for 1963-'64 totaled 16 and new lows 19.

Volume continued routine, at 4.02 million shares compared with 4.34 million Tuesday.

Thanks considerably to a gain of 3⅝ by Liggett & Myers—which is not represented in the Dow Jones average—The Associated Press average of 60 stocks made a fairly sharp gain of 1.0 at 290.7, with industrials up 1.1, rails up 1.4 and utilities up .2.

Strength in the rails was linked conspicuously to Pennsylvania Railroad, up 1⅜, and New York Central, up 1⅛.

Nine of the 15 most active stocks declined and 6 advanced.

Xerox was the most active issue for the second straight day. It fell 2¾ to 70⅜ on 177,900 shares.

Radio Corp. continued beset by long-term profit-taking and sank another 2¾. Ford, which reported record sales and profits, rose ⅜ in active dealings.

IBM sank 3½ and High Voltage Engineering 1.

Philip Morris ran up 1¾ and R. J. Reynolds a point. American Tobacco and Lorillard added fractions.

The trend was irregularly lower on the American Stock Exchange.

Alleged Madame On Relief

Mineola, N.Y. (AP)—The accused madame of a split-level vice ring of suburban Long Island housewives and mothers Wednesday was described as a relief client who augmented her welfare allotments by peddling sin.

Nassau County Dist. Atty. William Cahn said Mrs. Concetta McAllister, 35, mother of three, earned nearly $30,000 a year as madame of the call girl ring, while, at the same time, she drew $15,000 in welfare checks in the past five years.

When arrested, Cahn said, Mrs. McAllister had her February relief check for $231 in her possession. She was released on $10,000 bail on charges of recruiting young and middle-aged matrons into profitable prostitution.

A grand jury, meanwhile, indicted 30-year-old Richard Dina, a New York City hotel clerk, on charges of attempting to induce a 42-year-old mother of three into the ring.

The district attorney already has picked up 13 women whom he described as "typical housewives who live in split-level houses in suburbia."

The 13 are held as material witnesses in the ring's operations.

Now he is concentrating on a list of some 200 businessmen who purportedly paid $25 to $100 a night for the favors of the women, or steered customers to them, or otherwise knew of the operation.

Cahn believes he is on the trail of a vice ring far larger than the $200,000-a-year operation uncovered so far by an investigation started in April, 1962, and involving 75 detectives.

A grand jury began sifting evidence last September and heard a series of witnesses Wednesday.

The women themselves helped attract police attention to the situation by getting into barroom arguments with professional prostitutes who resented the competition.

Pair Loses 'Almost Everything' In Fire

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Klich of 2700 No. 27th lost "almost everything" in a roaring fire that gutted the inside of their trailer home Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Klich said she was alone in the trailer, asleep, when the smell of smoke awakened her. Clad only in her nightgown, she ran out of the trailer to a neighbor's trailer for help.

A neighbor who saw Mrs. Klich run from the trailer said that at that time "flames were shooting as high as the trees" and about half the trailer was filled with fire.

Firemen rushed to the scene and doused the blaze, but the 10-by-40-foot trailer smoked for hours afterward. Firemen carried out smoldering furniture and examined it, but the cause of the fire was not determined.

Klich is employed at the Lincoln Air Force Base.

Mrs. Klich escaped her ordeal unharmed.

Cleveland Integration Proposal Is Accepted

Cleveland (AP)—The United Freedom Movement accepted Wednesday night a proposal from school board members which could spell the end of this city's school integration crisis.

Board members have agreed to immediate integration of three east side schools where some 800 Negro pupils transported from overcrowded Hazeldell School have been kept in separate classrooms.

UFM leaders said school boycotts which had been threatened for Thursday and Friday are being called off. A planned boycott of downtown stores also is called off.

However, the Collinwood Improvement Association, representing white parents in receiving schools, was holding a meeting to discuss the plan announced Tuesday night by the board. Members of this group recently threatened to picket and boycott schools if the integration plans are carried out.

Broke Moratorium

Earlier, 50 members of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) broke a moratorium on demonstrations in the school dispute.

They picketed central police station protesting alleged police brutality in arrests of 20 sit-in demonstrators Tuesday. These demonstrations brought no new violence.

Some pickets went inside the building. They chanted and sang as a municipal court judge set March 18 for jury trial of five demonstrators charged with obstructing an officer or assault and battery.

The CORE pickets, white and Negro, paraded peacefully for almost two hours, then left. Officials of the United Freedom Movement, a civil rights confederation of about 50 organizations including CORE, had requested a suspension of all demonstrations pending the outcome of a mass rally Wednesday night.

The school board proposals came Tuesday night several hours after the paddy wagons took sit-in demonstrators from the board's downtown headquarters. Many of the demonstrators were carried out, and police said four officers were roughed up.

Richard L. Gunn, a UFM attorney, charged that a pregnant woman was hurt and that some demonstrators were dragged down stairs by their feet so their heads banged on the steps.

'We Abhor Brutality'

Some pickets outside police headquarters Wednesday carried signs which read: "Subversive of the Year: John Ungvary," and "We Abhor Police Brutality." Police Sgt. John Ungvary, head of the police subversive unit, has said five demonstrators had past Communist association.

One picket was Miss Ruth Turner, 24-year-old Oberlin College graduate and executive secretary of CORE. She repeated earlier charges that police used brutality in hauling her and other demonstrators from the school board building Tuesday.

Woods Park Tennis Court Bid Is $20,675

Walter J. Broer Construction Co. was apparent low bidder at $20,675 for three tennis courts in Woods Park at 33rd and O, city officials said Wednesday.

Other Lincoln bidders were George Cook Construction Co. $27,248; Olson Construction Co,. $23,916; and Judds Bros. Construction Co., $24,417.

Officials said three courts would be built initially, but bids included preliminary work for the future construction of three more.

The proposed project is part of the $50,000 appropriated for bleachers, tennis courts, walks, landscape, recreation center and other structures in the park.

In bids for furnishing a dual-broom street sweeper for the street department, Highway Equipment & Supply Co., Lincoln, was apparently low at $9,074, which included trade-in allowance on a 1950 sweeper.

Other bidders, all Omaha firms, were Nebraska Tractor & Equlpment Co., $9,486; Reynolds Machinery Co., $11,-995; T. S. McShane Co., $10,594.

Pair Attempting Getaway Halted At Road Block

By The Associated Press

Two men who made a gunpoint getaway after a gas-stealing attempt in Brule Wednesday were taken into custody later at a road block near Northport.

State Trooper E. J. Kotschwar said the men, who were being held by the sheriff at Bridgeport, gave their names as David Grell, 20, and Robert M. Lindsley, 35, both of Fort Dodge, Iowa.

Keith County Sheriff Ivan Armstrong said three Brule men found a man siphoning gas from a truck near the alfalfa mill at Brule.

The three told the sheriff they took the gas-stealer into the office and took the keys from his car. At that point a second man whom they had not seen, appeared, threatened them with a shotgun, and ordered his companion freed and the keys returned. The pair fled.

Trooper Kotschwar spotted the car 60 miles northwest at Broadwater and followed it to Northport where a roadblock had been set up. He said the men did not have the shotgun at the time of their capture.

Rome (AP)—Life returned to normal in Italy with the end of a nationwide strike by the country's one million state employes.

Mishap Sends Five In Family To A Hospital

A car-truck accident near 48th and Antelope Creek Road Wednesday night sent five members of the Harold L. Rodick family of 4309 Hillside to Bryan Memorial Hospital. They were all treated and released.

Police said Rodick, his wife and their three children were riding in a pick-up truck when a car driven by Richard W. Galyen, 19, of 1406 No. 15th, hit the rear of the truck.

The car and truck were going south on 48th.

Lad Runs Across Street, Is Struck

James Herrmann, 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Herrmann of 4734 M, was being held for observation Wednesday night at St. Elizabeth Hospital after he was struck by a Yellow Cab on Q between 8th and 9th.

Officer Jerry Smith said the boy ran across Q in the middle of the block to get into his father's car. Alfred Plosky, 24, of 1710 Sewell, driver of the cab, told Smith he was going east on Q.

BOY SCOUTS WILL REPORT TO GOVERNOR

Twenty selected Boy Scouts and Explorers will be in Lincoln Friday to participate in the annual report to the governor on the progress of Scouting in Nebraska.

The Scouts will be guests of the Lincoln Kiwanis Club at a Friday noon luncheon at the Lincoln Hotel. The group will tour the Lincoln Air Force Base Friday afternoon.

Formal ceremonies will be at 11 a.m. Saturday in the Capitol Building, with a governor's luncheon following in the Hotel Cornhusker.

The Scouts are picked from Nebraska districts according to their activities and leadership in school, church and community, as well as their Scouting record.

St. Elizabeth Could Begin Move In 1972

St. Elizabeth Hospital probably could start relocating with the asistance of federal Hill-Burton construction funds by 1972 or 1973, State Hospital Director Verne Pangborn said Wednesday.

But Pangborn based this on an assumption that Hill-Burton funds will increase in future years.

Relocation of the hospital from southwest Lincoln to somewhere in the northeast part of the city on or near the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture campus was recommended in a report recently. The report was made after a study sponsored by the Lincoln Hospital Council.

St. Elizabeth officials have indicated a willingness to relocate.

Hill-Burton funds would pay up to 40% of the cost of the relocation which would cost several million dollars.

Inter-Lutheran Seminary To Serve Great Plains Proposed

By the Associated Press

Twenty-three church leaders, meeting in Omaha, recommended that the Board of Theological Education of the Lutheran Church in America (LCA) begin studying the possibility of an inter-Lutheran seminary to serve the Great Plains and Southwest.

In the meantime, the churchmen proposed, Central Lutheran Theological Seminary in Fremont, an LCA institution, should continue to operate in Fremont without prejudice regarding possible relocation.

The five synods of the LCA which currently support Central Seminary assured the Fremont institution of strong continuing support.

The Omaha meeting, called to consider seminary training matters, brought together representatives of the five supporting LCA synods, the LCA's Board of Theological Education and Division of American Missions, National Lutheran Council, University of Nebraska and Central Seminary.

Sociological Study

The deliberations had their foundation in a sociological study of the 10-state Great Plains area as made by Dr. T. Earl Sullenger, formerly head of the sociology department at the University of Omaha. The study, designed to ascertain the need for Lutheran theological training in the area, disclosed that Lutheran growth exceeds population growth in the area, and that Central Seminary returns more pastors to the area than any other seminary.

Central Seminary now has 67 students, a few of whom are ordained ministers doing graduate work.

The recommendations are expected to be considered in March by the LCA's Board of Theological Education, and come up at the LCA's national meeting in July, a spokesman said.

Last Week In Month Busy For Senators

The final week of February will be a busy one for Legislative Council study committees. Four of them are scheduled to meet here on different days.

The vocational technical schools committee will meet on Feb. 25, the road classification committee on the 26th, the water control committee on the 27th and the community problems committee on Friday the 28th.

The Legislative Council Executive Board will meet here next Monday and Tuesday while the traffic safety committee will meet the same days in Omaha.

Public power committee meetings here Feb. 13 and 14 round out the schedule of legislative committees for the month.

The executive board meets at 8:30 a.m. Monday while all the other meetings begin at 9:30 a.m.
